DIA DE LOS MUERTOS

Por: Daisy Magaña

La cultura es el alimento que comemos con deleite, la música que escuchamos apasionadamente, el baile que rítmicamente mueve nuestros pies y nuestras caderas, inclusive la moda que curiosamente exploramos. Existe alrededor de nosotros; es el aire que respiramos. La cultura actúa como un puente que conecta a unos con otros. Es la raíz a la que estamos conectados con nuestros ancestros a quienes rendimos homenaje. El Día de los Muertos es una fiesta mexicana en honor a los amigos y familiares queridos que han muerto y a quienes recordamos con ofrendas y altares. Este año destacamos a varias organizaciones que celebran la tradición cultural del Día de los Muertos, en nuestra red, www.lawndalenews.com. Visítela.

‘Mujeres’ Takes Action Against Domestic Violence

By: Celia Martinez

A sea of purple balloons floated above the sidewalks of 18th street, Ashland and Cermak in Chicago’s Pilsen neighborhood last Saturday afternoon as families, community members, staff and supporters of Mujeres

The event began in Pilsen’s Harrison Park, 18th Street and Damen, where participants gathered for a ritual cleansing ceremony performed by Mexican cultural dancers. Supporters (made up of men, women and children) then took to the streets of Pilsen holding banners, to release the purple balloons they held into the sky, symbolizing a life lost to domestic violence. Attached to each balloon were motivational messages and the organization’s contact information, in hopes that the balloons would eventually reach those most in need.

Latinas en Acción marched to raise awareness on the issue of domestic violence.

Mujeres Latinas en Acción holds their annual ‘Ni Una Victima Mas’ March Against Domestic Violence every October, the designated month of Domestic Violence Awareness. Each year they work to eliminate domestic violence by bringing together activists, survivors and communities to mourn those who have died as a result of domestic violence, celebrate those who have survived, connect those who work to end the violence and assist survivors to break the cycle of abuse. “By marching together today we bring domestic violence out of the shadows and say that it is not okay,” said Maria del Socorro Pesqueira, president and CEO of Mujeres Latinas en Acción.

ribbon shaped posters and purple balloons chanting, “Ni una victima mas!” “Not another victim!” Support in the cause was evident not only in those participating in the march, but in the occasional passerby who would stop to read the signs, lend an ear or honk the horn of their car.

The march ended as the crowd arrived outside the office of Mujeres Latinas en Accion, 2124 W. 21st Pl. Once there, supporters were asked Cicero resident and Mujeres Latinas en Acción member Cecilia Esparragoza, marched and chanted with the crowd as she held a banner along the way. Esparragoza said this was her first time participating in the march and felt honored to be a part of it. “I’m very proud to be here,” Esparragoza said. “There is so much violence... so many children that die in the hands of their own parents. There are also

Un mar de globos púrpura flotaban sobre las banquetas de las calles 18, Ashland y Cermak en el barrio de Pilsen, de Chicago, el sábado pasado en la tarde, cuando familias, miembros de la comunidad, personal y simpatizantes de Mujeres Latinas en Acción marchaban para concientizar al público sobre el problema de la violencia doméstica.

Mujeres Latinas en Acción ha llevado a cabo su marcha anual 'Ni Una Víctima Más' Contra la Violencia Doméstica cada mes de octubre, mes designado a la Conscientización de la Violencia Doméstica. Cada año luchan por eliminar la violencia doméstica reuniendo a activistas, sobrevivientes y comunidades, para llorar por quienes han muerto como resultado de la violencia doméstica, celebrar a quienes han sobrevivido, conectar a quienes luchan por terminar la violencia y ayudara los sobrevivientes a romper el ciclo de abuso. "Al marchar juntos hoy sacamos a la violencia doméstica de las sombras y decimos que no está bien", dijo María del Socorro Pesqueira, presidenta y CEO de Mujeres Latinas en Acción.

El evento comenzó en Harrison Park de Pilsen, Calle 18 y Damen, donde los participantes se reunieron en una ceremonia ritual de limpieza, ejecutada por danzantes culturales mexicanos. Los simpatizantes (compuestos por hombres, mujeres y niños) tomaron las calles de Pilsen llevando pancartas, carteles y globos púrpura cantando, "Ni una víctima más!"

El apoyo en la causa era evidente, no solo en quienes participaban en la marcha, sino en los transeúntes ocasionales que se detenían a leer los letreros, escuchaban o hacían sonar el claxon de sus autos.

Mujeres Latinas en Acción Contra la Violencia Doméstica

La marcha terminó cuando la multitud llegó fuera de la oficina de Mujeres Latinas en Acción, 2124 W. 21st Pl. Una vez ahí, se pidió a los simpatizantes que soltaran los globos, simbolizando una vida perdida a causa de la violencia doméstica. Atado a cada globo había mensajes motivacionales e información para comunicarse con la organización, en espera de que los globos llegaran eventualmente a quienes más los necesitaban.

Cecilia Esparragoza, residente de Cicero y miembro de Mujeres Latinas en Acción, marchó y cantó con la multitud portando una pancarta. Esparragoza dijo que esta era su primera vez participando en la marcha y que se sentía honrada de ser parte de ella. "Me siento muy orgullosa de estar aquí", dijo Esparragoza. "Hay mucha violencia... tantos niños que mueren en manos de sus propios padres. También hay hombres que son abusados y no hablan por temor o vergüenza, mucha gente piensa que eso les sucede solo a las mujeres".

Esparragoza dijo que además del temor y la vergüenza, muchas víctimas no saben a quien recurrir y se quedan calladas. "Exhorto a todos a que hablen. Hay grupos que pueden ayudarles,

Remembering Our Loved Ones through Culture

By: Daisy Magaña

Culture is the food we savorily eat, the music we passionately listen to, the dance we rhythmically move our feet and shake our hips with, even the fashion we curiously explore. It exists all around us; it is the air we breathe. Culture acts as a bridge connecting each and every individual in one way or another. It is the roots to which we stay connected with our ancestors and pay homage. El Dia de Los Muertos is a Mexican holiday honoring the beloved friends and family that have passed away through ofrendas (offerings) and altares (altars). This year, we highlighted several organizations celebrating Dia de Los Muertos' cultural significance on our website, www.lawndalenews.com. Be sure to check them out.

'nadie te va a creer', 'lo que pasa en casa, se queda en casa', 'tu tienes la culpa'. Yo creía que esto era normal", dijo.

Mujeres Latinas en Acción siempre ayuda".

Para la sobreviviente de violencia doméstica, Francis Vélez, estas palabras son muy ciertas. Vélez, junto con otras cuantas personas compartió su historia con la multitud de simpatizantes al llegar a la oficina. Vélez dijo que su abuso llegó a un punto que ya no podía funcionar como madre, ni siquiera como persona. "Siempre oía a mi abusador decirme

Vélez ahora se mantiene firme y anima a las víctimas de violencia doméstica a que hablen y busquen ayuda, "Cuando vine aquí por primera vez tenía miedo, pero gracias a Dios este grupo me ayudó a levantarme y me proporcionó los medios que necesitaba. Acostumbraba caminar con la cabeza baja porque la gente podía verme con un ojo morado... pero ahora levanto la cabeza con orgullo", dice.

MOVIE REVIEW: Tony Mendez, Mexican-American, is the real CIA agent behind the real "Argo" movie which stars Ben Affleck, playing as Mendez.

THE MOVIE "Argo" is a true story. It was a ruse to rescue six American diplomats who were "house guests" of the Canadian Embassy during the Iran hostage crisis when Jimmy Carter was president in 1979-81. It is intense, gripping with suspense as a thriller. The storyline is unbelievable with full of risks by CIA agent Mendez. I give the movie three stars.

ANTONIO JOSEPH Mendez is a retired CIA intelligence officer, an author and an artist. He lives with his family and works in his studios and gallery on his forty acre farm in rural Washington County Maryland.

IN JANUARY 1980 Mendez was awarded the Intelligence Star for Valor for single-handedly engineering and conducting the rescue of six U.S. diplomats from Iran during the hostage crisis. The rescue operation involved creating a fake Hollywood film production company, complete with personnel, scripts, publicity and real estate. The caper worked to help the six American diplomats escape from Iran with Canadian passports.

MENDEZ retired in 1990. He was promoted to SIS-2, the equivalent of a two star General in the military. He earned the CIA's Intelligence Medal of Merit, Intelligence Star and two Certificates of Distinction. He also was awarded the Trailblazer Medallion in September 1997 on the fiftieth Anniversary of the CIA, he was one of fifty officers, chosen from the tens of thousands who had worked at CIA over the years. In October 2000, Mendez was awarded the Order of the Sphinx which is the Interallied Distinguished Service Cross for serving the Allied cause for freedom behind enemy lines.

ASCE AWARD: Frank Avila, Commissioner with the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago [MWRD], was named the "2012 Citizen Engineer of the Year" by the American Society of Civil Engineers of Illinois [ASCE]. Avila was presented his award during the ASCE dinner meeting on October 10, 2012 at the Union League Club in

Youth Sound Off During Juvenile Budget Hearing

On the eve of Halloween, former detained youth, parents, ministers, and members of Blocks Together, BUILD Inc., and Community Justice Institute for Youth, among others, dressed in prison jumpsuits as part of their 'Trick or Treat' campaign to demand reinvestments in alternatives to detention during a budget hearing inside the Cook County Building.

Youth and community advocates pushed for Cook County Commissioners during the County budget hearing to allocate funds away from the Juvenile Temporary Detention Center (JTDC) and invest those funds in 'high-quality' community-based education and social services, such as athletics and arts programs, as well as mental health care and safe shelter.

"The County is investing over $40 million a year to detain young people. That's a bad investment and a bad budget decision," said Darrius Lightfoot of the Audy Home Campaign and the Juvenile Advisory Council. "Instead, they should be spending taxpayer dollars to keep youth out of prison and engaged in their communities." The Audy Home Campaign is a coalition of community organizations troubled over the direction of the juvenile justice system in Cook County. The coalition includes men who are abused and they don't speak because of fear or shame- a lot of people think it only happens to women."

Esparragoza said that aside from the fear and shame, many victims may not know who to turn to and therefore remain silent. "I encourage everyone to speak up. There are groups that can help, Mujeres Latinas [en Acción] always helps." For domestic violence survivor Francis Velez, these words are very true. Velez, along with a few other speakers, shared her story with the crowd of supporters upon arriving to the office. Velez said that her abuse reached to a point that she could no longer function as mother, or even a person. "I would always hear my abuser tell me 'no one is going to believe you,' 'what happens at home stays at home,' 'it's your fault too.' I thought this was a way of life," she said.

Velez now stands strong and encourages victims of domestic violence to speak up and seek help, "I was afraid when I first came here, but I thank God that this group helped me pick myself up and gave me the tools that I needed. I used to walk with my head down because people would see me with a black eye... but today I lift my head with a lot of pride," she said.

"Community alternatives to detention could be the key to reducing youth violence and youth crime, but it requires investing in our youth."

In the past year, the County reduced the Juvenile Temporary Detention Center population by 50, according to the Audy Home Campaign. This year, Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle assured JTDC's population will shrink even more by implementing more community resource for troubled youth. In the meantime, youth urged that the 2013 juvenile justice budget reflect more youth-oriented programs rather than invest in more 'ankle bracelets,' as one teen voiced.

Youth, Precious Blood Ministry of Peace and Reconciliation and the Institute on Public Safety and Social Justice at the Adler School of Psychology.

During Tuesday's hearing, some youth dressed in business attire while others wore prison uniforms to demonstrate the choices Cook County Commissioners are making about the future of Chicago youth in their budget decisions. "Youth need mentorship and job training, not to be locked up," said Lightfoot.

servicios sociales de ‘alta calidad’, como programas de atletismo y artes, así como cuidado de salud mental y albergue seguro.

“El Condado invierte más de $40 millones al año para detener a gente joven. Esta es una mala inversión

y una mala decisión sobre el presupuesto”, dijo Darius Lightfoot, de la Campaña Audy Home y el Concilio de Asesoría Juvenil. “En vez de eso, deberían gastar el dinero del contribuyente en mantener a los jóvenes fuera de la prisión e involucrados en sus comunidades”. La Campaña Audy Home es una coalición de organizaciones comunitarias preocupadas por la dirección del sistema de justicia juvenil en el Condado de Cook. La coalición incluye Blocks Together, BUILD Inc., Center of Change, Community Justice Institute for Youth, Fearless Leading by the Youth, Precious Blood Ministry of Peace and Reconciliation y el Instituto de Seguridad Pública y Justicia Social de la Escuela de Psicología Adler.

Durante la audiencia del martes, algunos de los jóvenes vestían atuendos de negocios mientras otros vestían uniformes, para demostrar las alternativas que los Comisionados del Condado de Cook están tomando sobre el futuro de los jóvenes de Chicago en sus decisiones al presupuesto. “Los jóvenes necesitan tutoría y entrenamiento de trabajo, no estar encerrados”, dijo Lightfoot. “Las alternativas comunitarias a la detención podrían ser la clave para reducir la violencia juvenil y el crimen juvenil, pero requiere invertir en nuestros jóvenes”.

El año pasado, el Condado redujo la población del Centro de Detención Juvenil Temporal en 50, de acuerdo a la Campaña

Audy Home. Este año, el Presidente de la Junta del Condado de Cook, Toni Preckwinkle, aseguró que la población de JTDC disminuirá aún más con la implementación de más recursos comunitarios para jóvenes con problemas. Mientras tanto, los jóvenes pidieron que el presupuesto de justicia juvenil del 2013 refleje más programas orientados hacia la juventud, en lugar de invertir en “brazales para tobillos” como dijo un adolescente.

Emanuel, CPS CEO Byrd Announce First Recipients of Principal Performance Pay

Mayor Emanuel and Chicago Public Schools (CPS) CEO Barbara Byrd-Bennett Monday recognized 82 principals from across the district as the first recipients of principal performance pay, part of the Chicago Leadership Collaborative initiative the Mayor announced last fall that works to provide support and training for principals as well as reward them for building school environments that drive student success.

In November, Mayor Emanuel and CPS announced the formation of the Chicago Leadership Collaborative to help provide professional development, training, differentiated coaching and support for every principal in the district, working in tandem with the creation of Networks led by "Chiefs" of schools, which allow more personalized and targeted professional support and mentoring for principals.

The performance awards are supported by donations from Chicago's philanthropic community, with a total of $5 million designed to support awards over the course of 5 years. Principals were selected to receive achievement awards based on metrics developed over months of discussions with CPS principals.

Out of the 82 principals recognized this year, 72 were elementary school principals and ten were high school principals. Achievement factors included student college readiness and graduation rate, two critical pieces in providing students a better opportunity for success, as well as decreasing the achievement gap among students and growth in student test scores.

There are three levels of achievement awards: demonstrated student growth in two of the four factors merited an award of $5,000; demonstrated student growth in three of the four factors merited an award of $10,000; and demonstrated student growth across the board, in all four factors, merited an award of $20,000.

BBB Warns: 'Avoid Fraudulent Charities Following the Hurricane'

In the wake of Hurricane Sandy that hit the northeastern regions of the U.S., the Better Business Bureau serving Chicago and Northern Illinois (BBB) advises consumers do their research before making any donations to charities assisting those affected by the storm. The BBB offers the following tips to help donors decide where to direct donations to assist hurricane victims:

Be cautious when giving online. Be cautious, especially in response to unsolicited spam messages, and emails or social media posts that claim to link to a relief organization. If you want to give to a charity involved in relief efforts, go directly to the charity's website. In response to hurricanes Katrina and Rita and the Asian tsunamis, the FBI and others raised concerns about websites and new organizations that were created overnight, allegedly to help victims.

Rely on expert opinion when it comes to evaluating a charity. Be cautious when relying on third-party recommendations such as bloggers or other websites, as they may not have fully researched the relief organizations they list. Donors can go to www.bbb.org for free to research charities and relief organizations and verify that they are accredited by the BBB and meet the 20 Standards for Charity Accountability.

Find out if the charity is providing direct aid or raising money for other groups. Some charities may be raising money to pass along to relief organizations. If so, you may want to consider "avoiding the middleman" and give directly to those that have a presence in the region, or at a minimum, check out the ultimate recipients of these donations to see whether they are equipped to provide aid effectively. Never feel forced to make a hasty decision or to choose an unknown charity. For more tips you can trust, visit www.bbb.org

Local First Chicago Announces 'Buy Local Week' to Kick Off Holiday Shopping

Recently, the Chicago City Council passed a resolution proclaiming the week of November 23, 2012 – December 2, 2012 “Buy Local Week,” encouraging citizens to support Chicago’s locally-owned, independent businesses during the holiday shopping season. Locally owned businesses keep wealth circulating in our communities, adding to Chicago’s economic vitality and resilience and resulting in more vibrant and sustainable communities. Local First Chicago believes it takes a community to change our economy, and it can start with just $100 of holiday spending. If every household in Chicago shifted $100 of spending during the holiday season, it would keep $25 million from leaking out of our local economy.

This is Chicago’s third annual “Buy Local Week” to kick off Local First Chicago’s annual holiday shopping campaign “Unwrap Chicago: Eat, Drink & Buy Local” (www.eatdrinkbuylocal.org). The 2012 campaign includes partners from throughout the City including the City of Chicago, the Office of The City Treasurer, Choose Chicago and community and business partners from 30 neighborhoods. Local First Chicago is a network of locally-owned, independent businesses, non-profits, and community members joined together in the belief that locally-owned independent businesses are a crucial feature of economically and environmentally sustainable neighborhoods. For more information, visit www.localfirstchicago.org. Campaign Supporting Partners include, Roscoe Village Chamber of Commerce, Wicker Park Bucktown Chamber of Commerce, and Little Village Chamber of Commerce, to name a few.

Local First Chicago Anuncia la 'Semana de Compras Locales' para Iniciar las Compras Navideñas

Recientemente, el Concilio de la Ciudad de Chicago aprobó una resolución proclamando la semana del 23 de noviembre del 2012 – 2 de diciembre del 2012 “Semana de Compras Locales”, exhortando a los ciudadanos a apoyar al comercio independiente local de Chicago durante la temporada de compras navideñas. El comercio local mantiene circulando la riqueza en la comunidad, agregando vitalidad y flexibilidad y dando como resultado comunidades más vibrantes y estables. Local First Chicago cree que se necesita una comunidad para cambiar nuestra economía y puede empezar con solo $100 en gastos navideños. Si

cada familia de Chicago desplaza $100 de gastos durante la temporada navideña, se evitaría que $25 millones se escaparan de nuestra economía local.

Esta es la tercera “Semana de Compras Locales” de Local First Chicago para lanzar la campaña anual de compras navideñas “Unwrap Chicago: Eat, Drink & Buy Local” (www.eatdrinkbuylocal.org). La campaña del 2012 incluye asociados de toda la ciudad, incluyendo la Ciudad de Chicago, la Oficina del Tesorero de la Ciudad, Choose Chicago y asociados comunitarios y comerciales de 30 barrios. Local First Chicago es una red de comercios independientes locales, no lucrativos y miembros comunitarios unidos en la creencia que el comercio independiente local es una característica crucial de barrios ambiental y económicamente sustentables. Para más información, visite www.localfirstchicago.org. La Campaña de Socios de Apoyo incluyen a la Cámara de Comercio de Roscoe Village, la Cámara de Comercio de Wicker Park Bucktown y la Cámara de Comercio de La Villita, por nombrar algunos.

By: Ashmar Mandou

Beginning today undocumented youth will have the opportunity to reach higher levels of education, due in large part to the Illinois DREAM Fund. Last Friday, the Illinois DREAM Fund revealed it will begin accepting applications for scholarships on Thursday, Nov. 1st.

“We look forward to assisting Illinois immigrant students pursue their dreams of a college education, especially those students who may not be able to otherwise obtain financial assistance to make their dreams a reality,” said Tanya Cabrera, chairman of the Illinois Dream Fund Commission.

The Illinois DREAM

Fund is an independent, non-profit corporation that aims to develop ways undocumented youth can access financial funding to further their ‘growth and development,’ stated Cabrera. Students interested in applying to the Illinois DREAM Fun Scholarship must be incoming freshmen or current undergraduates that have a 2.5GPA or higher in their field of study.

“We encourage elected officials, business leaders, and community members to assist us by donating to the fund in order to help as many undocumented youth as possible in the State of Illinois,” said Rigo Padilla, board member of the Illinois DREAM Fund, in a statement.

Board members of the Illinois DREAM Fund were responsible for creating a nonprofit corporation that will raise private funds to offer scholarships for Illinois immigrant students. Currently, board members of corporation include, Chairman Tanya Cabrera, Clara Rubenstein, Clare Munana, Moises Zavala, Rigoberto Padilla-Perez, and Ron Perlman. To date, the Illinois DREAM Fund has raised close to $500,000, mostly due to private-donations. For more information on the scholarship, visit www.illinoisdreamfund.org.
