La Cámara Aprueba la SB 957

Por: Ashmar Mandou

Judy Díaz, residente de Pilsen, fue solo una de las muchas simpatizantes eufórica con la aprobación de la ley SB 957 en la Cámara el martes por la tarde, misma que concede a los inmigrantes indocumentados una licencia temporal para conducir.

“Esta noticia trae

tranquilidad para mi y mi familia, sabiendo que puedo manejar sin temor”, dijo Judy, inmigrante indocumentada, ante una multitud de reporteros, residentes y políticos, incluyendo al Alcalde Rahm Emanuel y al

Concejal Daniel Solís, el martes por la tarde en La Casa, en el barrio de Pilsen.

La SB 597 permitirá a los inmigrantes indocumentados obtener una Licencia de Manejo Temporal para Visitante

(TVDL) si pueden probar su residencia en Illinois por un año por lo menos, mostrar un pasaporte válido o un ID consular y aprobar las pruebas regulares de

Saint Anthony Hospital Welcomes First Baby of the Year

Saint Anthony Hospital has a cherished tradition of playing a lullaby – heard throughout the hospital – with the birth of every baby. This practice was developed to recognize and celebrate every time a new life enters the community. The very first lullaby of 2013 was heard at Saint Anthony Hospital following the birth of Aydan Alvarado, 7 pounds, 3 ounces and 19 inches long from Little Village, who was born to the delight of Georgina Acosta and Fernando Alvarado at 12:08 a.m. Hospital staff and patients throughout the hospital celebrated, as they do with the birth of more than 2,000 babies who are brought into the world at the hospital each year.

“Saint Anthony has a commitment to providing quality and supportive care throughout the pregnancy as well as through the birthing experience,” said Eden Takhsh, M.D., chairman, obstetrics and gynecology. Saint Anthony Hospital’s compassion for the community has driven its leadership to think more holistically about patient health care, which they feel should include education, access to healthy food and exercise, exposure to arts and more. “We want babies born at Saint Anthony Hospital to have a real shot at a healthy, happy life – and that means nurturing them even beyond the quality care we are able to provide at the hospital,” said Guy A. Medaglia, president and CEO, Saint Anthony Hospital.

Saint Anthony Hospital will relocate to serve as a tenant of the Focal Point community campus, which will offer a combination of retail, wellness, education, arts and recreation elements customized to meet the needs of the community. The financially self-sustaining campus is expected to open in 2017. More information on Focal Point can be found at www.FocalPointChicago.org.

El Hospital St. Anthony Recibe al Primer Bebé del Año

El Hospital St. Anthony tiene la apreciada tradición de tocar una canción de cuna – que se oye en todo el hospital – con el nacimiento de cada bebé. Esta práctica fue desarrollada para reconocer y celebrar cada vez que una nueva vida entra a la comunidad. La primera canción de cuna del 2013 se escuchó en el Hospital St. Anthony tras el nacimiento de Aydan Alvarado, 7 libras 3 onzas y 19 pulgadas, de La Villita, quien llegó, para su deleite, a los amorosos brazos de Georgina Acosta y Fernando Alvarado a las 12:08 a.m. El personal y los pacientes del hospital celebraron, como lo han hecho siempre, con el nacimiento de más de parto”, dijo el Dr. Eden Takshs, director de obstetricia y ginecología.

2,000 bebés traídos al mundo por el hospital cada año.

La compasión del Hospital St. Anthony por la comunidad ha impulsado a su liderazgo a pensar en forma más holística sobre el cuidado de salud del paciente, que piensan debe incluir educación, acceso a alimentos saludables y ejercicio, exposición a las artes y más.

“Queremos que los bebés nacidos en el Hospital St. Anthony tengan una vida saludable y feliz – y eso significa nutrirlos con el mejor cuidado de calidad que podamos ofrecer en el hospital”, dijo Guy A. Medaglia, presidente y CEO del Hospital St. Anthony.

El Hospital St. Anthony será reubicado para servir como inquilino del campo comunitario de Focal Point, que ofrecerá una combinación de elementos de tiendas, bienestar, educación, arte y recreación, adaptados para atender las necesidades de la comunidad. El campo financieramente autosostenible se espera abra sus puertas en el 2017. Más información sobre Focal Point la puede encontrar en www.FocalPointChicago.org.

My New Futuro Scholarship Contest

To kick off 2013, New Futuro has launched the My New Futuro Scholarship Contest, a new scholarship opportunity to help students get the resources they need to pay for college. Students can enter the contest by sharing a picture of what they dream of doing with their college education on the New Futuro Facebook page and getting their friends and family to vote for them. The top five photos with the most votes will be eligible to win one of three New Futuro scholarships: 1st place - $1,000; 2nd place - $500; 3rd place - $250.

Students ages 16 to 24 are eligible to submit an entry to the scholarship contest (one submission per person) and anyone with a Facebook account can vote for their favorite picture. The contest ends on January 31, 2013. For full details visit www.NewFuturo.com/MyNewFuturo.

Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor Visits Chicago

The Chicago Public Library welcomes United States Supreme Court Associate Justice Sonia Sotomayor, for a discussion of her memoir My Beloved World, in which she recounts her transition from her early life growing up in a Bronx housing project to being an associate justice on the country's highest federal bench. The free event takes place on Wednesday, January 30 at 6 p.m. in the 9th Floor Winter Garden at the Harold Washington Library Center, 400 S. State St.

As the first Hispanic and third woman appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court, Justice Sotomayor has become an instant American icon. She grew up in The Bronx, New York and is of Puerto Rican descent. She credits her mother as being her life inspiration who instilled in her an extraordinary sense of determination and the power of believing in oneself. She recalls that watching episodes of the television show Perry Mason started her thinking about a career in the justice system. Justice Sotomayor was appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court by President Barack Obama in May 2009, and confirmed by the U.S. Senate later that year with a super majority vote. She was President Obama's first nominee to the Supreme Court.

Seating in the Winter Garden will be held on a first come, first serve basis. For more information, visit chicagopubliclibrary.org or call (312) 747-4050.

La Juez de la Corte Suprema Sonia Sotomayor Visita Chicago

debate de su autobiografía My Beloved World, en la que cuenta la transición de su infancia creciendo en un proyecto habitacional del Bronx hasta convertirse en juez asociada en el puesto federal más alto del país. El evento gratuito tiene lugar el miércoles, 30 de enero a las 6 p.m., en el 9^o piso de Winter Garden, en la Biblioteca Harold Washington, 400 S. State St.

Como primera hispana y tercera mujer nombrada a la Corte Suprema de E.U., la Juez Sotomayor se ha convertido en un ícono estadounidense. Creció en el Bronx, Nueva York y es de descendencia puertorriqueña. Acredita a su madre ser la inspiración de su vida, quien le inculcó un extraordinario sentido de determinación y el poder de creer en si misma. Recuerda que viendo episodios del show de televisión Perry Mason, empezó a pensar en una carrera en el sistema judicial. La Juez Sotomayor fue nombrada a la Corte Suprema de E.U. por el Presidente Barack Obama en mayo del 2009 y confirmada más tarde por el Senado de E.U. con un voto super mayoritario. Fue la primera nominada por el Presidente Obama a la Suprema Corte.

Los asientos en el Winter Garden serán ocupados por orden de llegada. Para más información, visite www.chicagopubliclibrary.org o llame al (312)747-4050.

Stop Concealed Carry Coalition Applauds AG Madigan's Action

The Stop Concealed Carry Coalition released the following statement on Tuesday upon learning that Illinois Attorney General Lisa Madigan had requested a new hearing on the state's concealed carry law:

"Illinois Attorney General Lisa Madigan is correct to seek a rehearing of Federal Judge Posner's decision that struck down Illinois' ban on carrying concealed weapons in public. The court's decision had no basis in the law. The Illinois state legislature, conscious of the dangers caused by people carrying guns in public, was acting within its constitutional powers when it decided to protect people from this deadly danger.

"Illinois' law is not in conflict with the Second Amendment, which only gives people a limited right to keep guns in their own homes – not in public places. In the aftermath of the tragic shootings at Sandy Hook Elementary School and far too many other shootings that occur on a daily basis in Illinois, the importance of reasonable gun controls, including Illinois' ban on guns in public, is obvious."

The Stop Concealed Carry coalition consists of churches and other institutions, clergy, public officials, and thousands of people who are working to make sure Illinois' ban on guns in public remains in effect. Information on the coalition can be found at www.StopConcealedCarry.org or contact coalition organizer Lee Goodman at lee@stopconcealedcarry.org or call 847-559-9525.

Historic Moment for Undocumented Community House Passes SB 957

Pilsen resident Judy Diaz was just one of many supporters elated over the passing of SB 957, 65-46, by the House Tuesday afternoon that grants undocumented immigrants a temporary driver's license.

"This news brings relief to me and my family in knowing that I can drive without fear," said undocumented immigrant Diaz before a crowd of reporters, residents, and politicians, which included Mayor Rahm Emanuel and Alderman Daniel Solis Tuesday evening at La Casa in the Pilsen neighborhood.

SB 957 will allow undocumented immigrants obtain a Temporary Visitor Driver's License (TVDL), if they are able to prove residency within Illinois for at least one year, provide a valid unexpired passport or consular ID, and pass all applicable vision, written, and road tests. "This is a big deal," said Ald. Solis over a crowd of cheers. "This could never have been possible without the work of Representative Edward Acevedo, Senate President John Cullerton, Governor Pat Quinn,

Mayor Emanuel, and the members of ICIRR who have pushed for this piece of legislation. This moment brings us one step closer to immigration reform."

According to members of the Illinois Coalition for Immigrant and Refugee Rights, who were also on hand to partake in the celebration, more than 250,000 undocumented immigrants currently drive without a license in Illinois, causing $64 million in damage claims each year. Proponents of the SB 957 believe this passage will create safer roads.

"We have been clear in setting a national pattern," said Mayor Emanuel. "This will be noticed around the country. This is a great accomplishment to allow people on a very practical basis to take their kids to school, places of worship, and get themselves to work." After a 13 year struggle to pass SB 957, it will now go to Governor Pat Quinn, who committed to signing the bill into law. Once SB 957 is officially signed, Illinois will become the fourth state to grant undocumented immigrants permission to legally drive. "I want to take this victory, savor what it is and use it as the energy to move and bring comprehensive immigration reform," said Emanuel.

Once signed, SB 957 will go into effect in ten months.

la vista, la escrita y la de la carretera. "Esto es muy importante", dijo el Concejal Solís a una multitud de entusiastas. "Esto nunca hubiera sido posible sin el trabajo del Representante Edward Acevedo, el Presidente del Senado John Cullerton, el Gobernador Pat Quinn, el Alcalde Emanuel y los miembros de ICIRR que han luchado por esta legislación. Este momento nos acerca un paso más a la reforma de inmigración.

De acuerdo a los miembros de la Coalición pro Inmigrantes y Refugiados de Illinois, quienes estuvieron presentes para participar en la celebración, más de 250,000 inmigrantes i n d o c u m e n t a d o s manejan en Illinois sin licencia, causando $64 millones en reclamos por daños todos los años. Los proponentes de la SB 957 creen que con esta aprobación tendremos calles más seguras.

"Hemos estado claros en fijar un patrón nacional", dijo el Alcalde Emanuel. "Esto llamará la atención en todo el país. Es un gran logro permitir a la gente, como algo práctico, llevar a sus hijos a la escuela, lugares de trabajo y transportarse a si mismos a su trabajo". Después de 13 años de lucha para que se aprobara la SB 957, ahora pasará al Gobernador Pat Quinn, quien se comprometió a convertir el proyecto en ley. Una vez que la SB 957 sea oficialmente firmada, Illinois se convertirá en el cuarto estado en conceder permiso a los inmigrantes indocumentados para que conduzcan legalmente. "Quiero aceptar esta victoria, saborearla en todo lo que vale y utilizarla como la energía que mueva y nos traiga una reforma de inmigración integral", dijo Emanuel.

Una vez firmada, la SB 957 entrará en efecto en diez meses.

El Alcalde Rahm Emanuel habló a una multitud de simpatizantes el martes por la noche en La Casa, en el Barrio de Pilsen, después que la Cámara aprobara la ley SB 957 que permitirá a residentes indocumentados obtener una licencia temporal para conducir.

COUNTRY Financial Awards Grants to Six Chicago Organizations

COUNTRY Financial® has awarded $110,000 in grants to six Chicago organizations through its 2012 Count on COUNTRY community grant program. This year marks the fifth consecutive year COUNTRY Financial has awarded grants to Chicago-area nonprofit organizations. In the last four years, the Count on COUNTRY program has given $325,000 to 10 Chicago nonprofit groups. This year's focus is on programs that support financial literacy for single family households, which research shows to be the most financially-challenged segment of society. This year's grant recipients are listed below.

Center for Economic Progress
Funding from the grant will help support CEP's efforts to expand on its year-round services aimed at helping low-income and single-parent households achieve "financial capability" to make sound financial decisions.

Chicago Urban League
The Count on COUNTRY grant will help support the Urban League's partnership with the Primo Center for Women and Children, which is aimed at providing general work readiness training, financial literacy and employment placement services to homeless, single women head of household families in Chicago-area communities.

Heartland Human Care Services
Heartland Human Care Services will be using funds from this year's Count on COUNTRY grant to support its IDEA Initiative ("Imagine, Dedicate, Earn, Achieve")—an asset building and financial literacy program for low-wage working adults in Chicago.

Instituto del Progreso Latino Funding from the grant will support Instituto del Progreso Latino's efforts to expand its Mujer Avanzando: Camino al Éxito (Woman Advancing: Path to Success) program, which is designed to help Latina women, most of whom are single parent heads of households, achieve economic independence and self-sufficiency.

Jane Addams Resource Corporation
The Count on COUNTRY financial support will fund resources for single parents who are enrolled in Jane Addams Resource Corporation's Center for Working Families (CWF) program and Careers in Manufacturing Programs (CMP).

North Lawndale Employment Network

The North Lawndale Employment Network will use the Count on COUNTRY grant to support its Center for Working Families (CWF) program, which provides long-term financial planning to low-income individuals. Seventy-five percent of participants include single parents. For more information about the program and the specific eligibility qualifications, visit <http://www.countoncountryfinancial.com>.

Stop Concealed Carry Coalition Aplaude la Actuación de la Procuradora Madigan

Stop Concealed Carry Coalition publicó la siguiente declaración el martes, tras saber que la Procuradora General de Illinois, Lisa Madigan había pedido una nueva audiencia sobre la ley de portar armas ocultas, del estado:

“La Procuradora General Lisa Madigan tiene razón en pedir otra audiencia a la decisión del Juez Federal Posner, quien retiró la prohibición de Illinois de llevar armas ocultas en público. La decisión de la corte no tiene base en la ley. La legislatura del estado de Illinois, consciente del peligro causado por la gente que porta armas en público, está actuando dentro de sus poderes constitucionales al haber decidido proteger a la gente de este peligro mortal.

“La ley de Illinois no está en conflicto con la Segunda Enmienda, que solo da a la gente derecho limitado para mantener sus armas en su propia casa – no en lugares públicos. Después de la trágica balacera en la Escuela Elemental Sandy Hook y otras muchas balaceras ocurridas diariamente en Illinois, la importancia de un razonable control de armas, incluyendo la prohibición de armas en público en Illinois, es obvia”.

La coalición Stop Concealed Carry está compuesta por iglesias y otras instituciones, el clero, funcionarios públicos

y miles de personas que trabajan, para asegurarnos que la prohibición de armas en público de Illinois sigue en efecto. Información sobre la coalición la puede encontrar en www.StopConcealedCarry.org o comunicándose con el organizador de la coalición, Lee Goodman en lee@stopconcealedcarry.org o 847-559-9525.

Flu Vaccine Not Too Late, According to CDC

When it's after November and you see signs and banners in your community that advertise, "Get Your Flu Vaccine Here," you might think, "Isn't it too late for that?" The answer is no! "Flu season typically peaks in February and can last as late as May," says Dr. Anne Schuchat, Assistant Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service and Director of Center for Disease Control's National Center for Immunization and Respiratory Diseases. "We are encouraging people who have not yet been vaccinated to get vaccinated now."

For millions of people every season, the flu can mean a fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, muscle aches, fatigue, and miserable days spent in bed. However, you may not realize that more than 200,000 people are hospitalized in the United States from flu complications each year. The flu also can be deadly: CDC estimates that from the 1976-1977 season to the 2006-2007 flu season, flu-associated deaths ranged from a low of about 3,000 to a high of about 49,000 people.

This is why CDC recommends an annual flu vaccine for everyone 6 months and older. It's available in two forms: a shot and a nasal spray. Flu shot options include the regular flu shot, the new intradermal flu shot, and a high-dose flu shot. While the regular flu shot can be given to just about everyone, the intradermal flu shot is approved for use in adults 18 through 64 years of age, and the high-dose flu shot is for people aged 65 years and older. The nasal spray vaccine is approved only for use in healthy people ages 2 to 49 years who aren't pregnant.

Flu vaccines are offered in many locations, including doctor's offices, clinics, health departments, pharmacies and college health centers. They also are offered by many employers, and are even available in some schools. So next time you see a sign that says, "Get Your Flu Vaccine Here," stop in. Or make an appointment with your doctor or clinic today. Use the Flu Vaccine Finder by visiting <http://flushot.healthmap.org> to find the nearest location where you and your family can get vaccinated.

"Getting the flu vaccine is simple, and it's the most important thing you can do to protect yourself and your family from the flu," says Dr. Schuchat. For more information about influenza or the flu vaccine, talk to your doctor or nurse, visit <http://www.cdc.gov/flu> or call CDC at 1-800-CDC-INFO.

No es Tarde para Vacunarse Contra la Influenza, de Acuerdo a CDC

Cuando pasa noviembre y ve letreros y anuncios en su comunidad diciendo, “Vacúnese Contra la Influenza Aquí” puede pensar, “¿No es demasiado tarde para eso?” La respuesta es ¡No! “La temporada de influenza típicamente tiene su temporada más alta en febrero y puede durar hasta fines de mayo”, dice la Dra. Anne Schuchat, Cirujana Asistente General de U.S. Public Health Service y Directora del Centro Nacional Para Inmunización y Enfermedades Respiratorias del Centro para el Control de las Enfermedades. “Estamos aconsejando a la gente que aún no se ha vacunado, que se vacune ahora”.

Para millones de personas cada temporada, la influenza puede significar fiebre, tos, dolor de garganta, secreción nasal o nariz obstruida, dolor muscular, fatiga y días desagradables en cama. Sin embargo, tal vez no sepa que más de 200,000 personas son hospitalizadas en Estados Unidos cada año por complicaciones de la influenza. La influenza puede ser también mortal: CDC calcula que de la temporada de influenza de 1976-1977 a la del 2006-2007, las muertes asociadas con la influenza van desde 3,000 a 49,000 personas.

Es por eso que CDC recomienda la vacuna anual contra la influenza desde los 6 meses en adelante. La hay disponible en dos formas: en inyección o en rocío nasal. La opción de las inyecciones incluyen la vacuna regular de la influenza, la nueva vacuna intradérmica y la vacuna de alta dosis contra la influenza. Aunque la vacuna regular contra la influenza se le puede aplicar a casi todos, la vacuna intradérmica es aprobada para usarse en adultos de 18 a 64 años de edad, y la vacuna de dosis alta contra la influenza es para la gente de 65 años en adelante. La vacuna por rocío nasal es aprobada solo para gente saludable desde 2 años a 49, que no estén embarazadas.

Las vacunas contra la influenza se ofrecen en varios lugares, incluyendo oficinas de doctores, clínicas, departamentos de salud, farmacias y centros de salud universitarios. También son ofrecidas por muchos empleadores e inclusive las hay disponibles en algunas escuelas. La próxima vez que vea un letrero que diga “Vacúnese Aquí”, deténgase. O haga una cita con su doctor o su clínica hoy mismo. Utilice el Buscador de Vacunas contra la Influenza visitando <http://flushhot.healthmap.org> o encuentre el local más cercano para que usted y su familia se vacunen.

“Recibir la vacuna de la influenza es sencillo y es lo más importante que puede hacer para protegerse, usted y su familia, de la influenza”, dice la Dra. Schuchat. Para más información sobre la influenza o la vacuna contra la influenza, hable con su doctor o enfermera, visite <http://www.cdc.gov/flu> o llame al CDC al 1-800-CDC-INFO.

Photographer Tim Arroyo*

Prospectus Art Gallery is pleased to present the work of Mr. Tim Arroyo, an award winning Fine Art photographer. Arroyo is an artist and educator based in the Pilsen neighborhood of Chicago. Currently pursuing an MFA in Photography, his work has been exhibited locally and nationally at the National Arts Center, Ottawa, Ontario; the Lyceum Theatre, San Diego, CA; the Mandalay Bay Casino, Las Vegas, NV; and the Las Cruces Museum of Fine Arts, Las Cruces, NM. The Hahnemühle Fine Art paper company at Photoshop World Las Vegas, and PhotoPlus in New York City, as well as in the December issue of Photoshop User Magazine, recently featured Arroyo’s work.

The exhibition will take place at Prospectus Art Gallery, 1210 W. 18th St., Chicago, on February 1st through March 29th. Admission is free. The opening reception will take place on Friday, Feb. 8th at 5p.m.

COMMENTARYThis Book Should Be Mugged*By Daniel Nardini

For the life of me, I cannot figure out how some blithering idiots can get their books published, and why any truly self-respecting publisher would want to publish them. That all said, I highly do NOT recommend buying the book Mugged: Racial Demagoguery from the Seventies to Obama by Ann Coulter. Published by Sentinel (shame on them!), the book is just one gigantic whine on how the political left seems to have taken over the whole argument on the African American issue. This coming from the same person who only recently accused all Latinos of being

"the poorest of the poor" and having nothing but illegitimate babies and getting "fat on government welfare." I will not dignify this crazy lady's rantings with a comment, but I will say this for Ms. Coulter, and that is she has so viciously racially profiled all Latinos that the neo-nazis could not have done a better job.

This seems to be true of her book on African Americans. It is as if the whole issue of who African Americans are, what they have suffered in history, and how social and political racism has affected them has played no part. The whole argument has been "hijacked" by the political left. In this I see another conservative (even I have problems labeling Ann Coulter as a conservative. More like an ultra-right wing fascist) making an argument that only Republicans helped to better the plight of African Americans and that liberals (note: she seems to lump a whole lot of people into the category) started to try and create a kind of "collective white guilt" to try and push through a liberal agenda. It apparently has not occurred to Ms. Coulter that her history is as faulty as her generalizations. She ignores, for example, U.S. President Harry S. Truman's desegregation of the U.S. armed forces, and U.S. President John F. Kennedy's enforcement of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision desegregating all public schools. I do not deny for one second U.S. President Dwight D. Eisenhower's desegregation of the public schools in Arkansas, but I must state that racial and ethnic desegregation was done under these presidents regardless of what party they belonged to.

This stupid book would have you believe that the Democratic Party is dominated by Communists, anarchists and dangerous leftist special interest groups. All of this type of garbage was made during the 2012 presidential campaign by too many right wing loonies who saw reds

End of the Chavez Regime?

By Daniel Nardini

It seemed for certain that Hugo Chavez would have another six years to rule Venezuela any way he likes. Now Venezuelans, both for and against Chavez, are not sure if he will live for long. The Cuban government is keeping a tight lid on Chavez's health. What information does come out seems to indicate he has complications, and he will probably miss his official inaugural. If Chavez misses this, then by the Venezuelan constitution (which Chavez wrote up) a temporary president will have to be put in place until either the current president is well enough to return to his office, or fresh elections will have to be held. The opposition is hoping that new elections will be held since they are still suspicious that the former elections were rigged.

Without Chavez, will the socialists that Chavez put into power remain? Can they create a system of government as was the case in Cuba? Or, will elections be held so that the op-under their beds. It just has not occurred to these people, and Ms. Coulter in particular, that all of this extremist non-sense turned off most Americans and caused current U.S. President Barack Obama to be reelected. It is as simple as that. Now Ann Coulter has gone off the deep end launching vicious, and factless, attacks against Latinos. If my readers wish to read this book, I recommend that they get a copy from the library. No point in wasting money on this. But if my readers don't wish to waste their time on this book, then I have no problem with that.

position might take over and end the so-called socialist Bolivarian Revolution? It is hard to say, but Chavez supporters are far from giving up power. Even if their leader and mentor Hugo Chavez should die, there is no guarantee that they will simply give up power. They may not even allow elections because they fear the opposition might win. Could this mean civil war? Nothing can be excluded anymore. Many Venezuelans have come to the United States because they feared Venezuela would be ruled with an iron fist by Chavez. Now many of them fear that Venezuela may head down the path of chaos and even civil war. So most will stay put and watch.

Is it possible that Chavez might return but then resign because of ill health? It seems that a whole list of possibilities are on the table. Few are any good. Many Venezuelans, especially in the opposition, hope that elections will be held so that the Chavez regime will be over for good. The opposition does not want to see a second Chavez-like ruler come in and keep the Bolivarian Revolution or socialism on the agenda. Many Venezuelans are hoping for real change, and an end to the Chavez regime. But wanting something is one thing, and getting it is something else. Chavez is down but so far he is not entirely out. All of these speculations shall remain speculations as long as Hugo Chavez is still on the scene.

Still Ignoring the Mental Health Issue

By Daniel Nardini

While U.S. President Barack Obama and the Republicans keep arguing about what to do about guns, gun control, and gun rights for gun owners, an incident took place that should be food for thought for both sides. Alabama police just barely stopped a high school student from committing mass murder. Dereck ShROUT had planned to blow up parts of Russell County High School---killing dozens of students, teachers and school faculty. The only thing that stopped this was a teacher who accidentally came across his written notebook that detailed his plans. When police obtained a search warrant for Dereck ShROUT parent's home, they found smokeless tobacco canisters filled with shrapnel and not yet primed to explode. There is no question that a major act of terror and murder was barely avoided.

But it all comes back to a central question that I had posed previously. Why haven't authorities looked at the mental history of certain individuals, and why did they not take into consideration that any written or oral statement of a threat be treated seriously? This one fortunately was given serious thought after what happened in Newtown, Connecticut. However, I must point out that this near act of mass murder was going to be commit-

Obama Reauthorizes NDAA

By Daniel Naridni

In a not-so-well publicized news item, U.S. President Barack Obama reauthorized the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA). Under this act, those suspected of cooperating or having "connections" with designated terrorist groups can be taken to prison and held indefinitely without trial or even legal representation. What is just as troubling about this is that it includes U.S. citizens. The provision to actually imprison U.S. citizens is right now on hold pending the whole case going through the court system. In 2012, a federal court ruled that neither the President of the United States nor the U.S. Congress can imprison Americans indefinitely without trial or legal representation. This issue is still pending. However, it seems that Obama has no problem with the NDAA despite its flaws.

And this legislation has many flaws. For instance, the NDAA allows the U.S. government to designate what is "independent" news coverage of listed terror groups and what is not. If, for some odd reason, the U.S. government considers a journalist is not truly an "independent" source for reporting the news then they can be imprisoned. It is this arbitrary nature of what is acceptable to the U.S. government and what is not that is most troubling to just about any and every journalist. This is why a federal judge has so far put this part of the NDAA on hold---many in the judiciary are troubled by it too. Another problem is that the NDAA attacks journalists trying to get both sides of the news story. If the U.S. government is allowed to prohibit news information coming from groups that are considered "terrorist," then journalists are as much targets on the U.S. government's hit list as well as the terror groups. Needless to say, the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution is at stake.

Yet for all of the flaws in the NDAA, Obama has reauthorized it. This has to beg for two questions. First, is Obama so weak willed that he will sign on to something because the U.S. Congress is for it? Second, given how part of a provision of the Act is now suspended, doesn't he know that he is causing a major court challenge by keeping the NDAA? Another problem is that reauthorizing the Act means that the infamous prison in Guantanamo Bay remains open indefinitely. On his first presidential campaign trail, Obama promised to close the prison. Not only has he not fulfilled his promise, but the prison shall remain open indefinitely. The same prison that used torture and was a legal black hole (not to mention an embarrassment for the United States) remains. What does this say about Barack Obama's second term in office? None of this bodes well for the next four years.

The National Runaway Switchboard to Become National Runaway Safeline

Starting this week, the National Runaway Switchboard begins doing business as the National Runaway Safeline. As the go-to resource for America's runaway, homeless and at-risk youth and their families, it's the same organization introducing a new name to better connect with those it serves.

The organization recognized that the term "safeline" resonates better with today's youth and it reflects the various ways youth in crisis can connect with its services. Since its founding 42 years ago, it grew into a national organization and expanded its crisis intervention offerings beyond its hotline 1-800-RUNAWAY to include bulletin boards, crisis emails, and live chat on www.RUNAWAY.org. The National Runaway Switchboard will commemorate its name change to the National Runaway Safeline with 24 hours of celebrating in Chicago, across the country and throughout the Internet. The National Runaway Safeline, established in 1971, serves as the federally-designated national communication system for homeless and runaway youth. NRS, with the support of more than 150 volunteers, handles an average of 100,000 calls annually – more than 3 million calls since the organization's inception. For more information or details on the name change celebration activities, visit www.1800RUNAWAY.org.

Mental Health Issue...

ted not by using guns, but by using homemade explosives. I have to ask myself where this kid got all of these smokeless tobacco canisters, and didn't his parents notice that he was keeping these? There were dozens of them. What possible use could such canisters be for a 17 year old kid? This should have raised some alarm bells with his parents. And what about all of the material he had been hoarding? It seems to me that some parents really do not care what their teenage children do, and that is scary.

Clearly this kid has a few screws loose. He is far from being the only one to show very questionable behavior. But the focus seems to be more on the instrument of trying to kill people than the one who commits the acts. This kid did not need a gun to think of killing people. With what nearly happened at Russell County High School, are we going to ban smokeless tobacco? Are we going to ban or restrict copper wire that can be used to make fuses? Are we going to ban or restrict bolts and metal shavings that can be used in making bombs? The chances are probably Dereck Shrout's fellow students noticed something was wrong with him, but either did not or could not communicate this to school faculty. Perhaps some even believed that Dereck Shrout was going through a "phase." May be was, but erratic and violent behavior, along with complete silence might be something to watch for. I am not advocating arresting such people and putting them in a mental ward. I advocate trying to help such individuals, if something looks wrong, before they go off and plan the unthinkable.
