Advocates Call for Passage SB 32

By: Ashmar Mandou

The Illinois Coalition for Immigrant and Refugee Rights released a new report titled Unequal Protection: Disparate Treatment of Immigrant Victims in Cook, the Collar Counties, and Beyond during a press conference on Tuesday commemorating Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

The report highlights disparities in law enforcement policies and practices related to U visa and T visa certifications across the state of Illinois. These visas, first created by Congress under the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Prevention Act of 2000, were meant to address the under-reporting of crimes among undocumented immigrant survivors. In order to be eligible to apply for a U visa, these survivors must submit USCIS Form I-918B, a form completed and certified by local, state, or federal law enforcement officials verifying the survivor's participation in the detection, investigation, and/or prosecution of the crime. ICIRR Senior Policy Counsel Fred Tsao explained that the report, based on surveys and interviews of legal and domestic violence survey providers from 26 counties and 70 municipalities across Illinois, is a crucial expansion on a 2014 report by the DePaul University Asylum and Immigration Clinic. "[The] report shows the importance of the U visa in keeping Illinois safe, and how the disparities of law enforcement practices throughout the state currently hinder a law that helps empower immigrant survivors," said Tsao.

In light of the new report and concerns expressed by community members, The Campaign

For A Welcoming Illinois has begun working to pass SB 32, the Voices of Immigrant Communities Empowering Survivors (VOICES) Act. The VOICES Act would standardize the certification process across jurisdictions and ensure that survivors receive certifications in a timely fashion, ensuring that they are empowered and on a path to self-sufficiency. "The Illinois VOICES Act, SB 32, creates policies that will help guide law enforcement agencies when they respond to U visa certification requests, and help those law enforcement agencies ensure not only compliance with federal law, but also enhanced community trust and public safety," said Trisha Teofilo Olave, Senior Legal Supervisor of the National Immigrant Justice Center. "It also supports survivors of crime by streamlining the U visa certification process and holding law enforcement accountable. SB 32 ensures that immigrant survivors will have equal access to the U visa throughout the state of Illinois."

The Vice President of Gender Violence Innovation and Evaluation at Mujeres Latinas en Accion, Estela Melgoza, also voiced her support for the bill, saying, "The immigrant survivors who we serve, many of whom are undocumented, face many barriers. Latina survivors are 50 percent less likely to ever report their abuse. Undocumented status gives abusers additional tools of power and control to keep victims isolated and intimidated. But one way to empower survivors of domestic violence and break the control of abusers is through U and T Visas. These visas are available to immigrant survivors who provide information or cooperate with the investigation or prosecution of a crime." SB 32, which passed the Senate with strong bipartisan support in May, is now pending in the Illinois House, where advocates hope to move it forward during the upcoming fall veto session. Illinois Senate President John Cullerton and State Representatives Theresa Mah and Lisa Hernandez attended the press conference to voice their support for the bill.

Defensores Piden la Aprobación de la SB 32

La Coalición pro Derechos del Refugiado y el Inmigrante de Illinois (ICIRR) publicó un nuevo reporte titulado Protección Desigual: Tratamiento Desigual a los Inmigrantes Víctimas en Cook, Condados Circunvecinos y Más durante una conferencia de prensa el martes, conmemorando el Mes de Concientización de la Violencia Doméstica.

El reporte destaca las disparidades en las políticas de aplicación de la ley y prácticas relacionadas a la certificación de la Visa U y la Visa T en el estado de Illinois. Estas visas, creadas primero por el Congreso bajo el Acta de Prevención a la Violencia y al Tráfico de Víctimas del 2000, fueron extendidas para atender los crímenes no reportados entre sobrevivientes inmigrantes indocumentados. Para ser elegible para solicitar la visa U, estos sobrevivientes deben enviar la Forma USCIS 1-918B, una forma completada y certificada por funcionarios de la ley local, estatal o federal, verificando la participación del sobreviviente en la detención, investigación y/o procesamiento del crimen. El Consejero de Políticas Senior de ICIRR, Fred Tsao, explicó que el reporte, basado en encuestas y entrevistas de proveedores de violencia doméstica legal y doméstica, de 26 condados y 70 municipalidades de Illinois, es una ampliación crucial de un reporte del 2014 de DePaul University Asylum and Immigration Clinic. “[El] reporte muestra la importancia de la visa U para mantener a salvo a Illinois y como las disparidades de las prácticas de la ley en el estado obstaculizan una ley que ayuda a empoderar a los inmigrantes sobrevivientes”, dijo Tsao.

En vista del nuevo reporte y las preocupaciones expresadas por miembros de la comunidad, La Campaña por Un Illinois Acogedor ha comenzado a luchar por aprobar la SB 32, El Acta las Voces de las Comunidades de Inmigrantes Sobrevivientes (VOICES). El Acta VOICES hace igual el proceso de certificación en las jurisdicciones y garantiza que los sobrevivientes reciben las certificaciones a tiempo, garantizándoles que están en camino a la autosuficiencia. “El Acta VOICES de Illinois, SB 32, crea políticas que ayudan a guiar a las agencias de la ley cuando responden a una petición de certificación para la visa U y ayudan a las agencias de la ley no solo a asegurarse de cumplir con la ley federal, sino a mejorar la confianza de la comunidad y la seguridad pública”, dijo Trisha Teofilo Olave, Supervisora Legal Senior de National Immigrant Justice Center. “Apoya también a los sobrevivientes de un crimen facilitando el proceso de certificación de la visa U y haciendo responsable a la ley. La SB 32 garantiza que los inmigrantes sobrevivientes tienen igual acceso a la visa U en todo el estado de Illinois”

La Vicepresidenta de Gender Violence Innovation y Mujeres Latinas en Acción, Estela

Melgoza, hizo oír su ayo al proyecto, diciendo, “Los inmigrantes sobrevivientes a quienes servimos, muchos de los cuales son indocumentados, enfrentan muchas barreras. Las mujeres latinas sobrevivientes son 50 por ciento menos propensas a reportar su abuso. El estado de indocumentado da a los abusadores medios adicionales de poder y control para mantener a sus víctimas aisladas e intimidadas. Pero una forma de dar poder a los sobrevivientes de violencia doméstica y romper el control de los abusadores es a través de las Visas U y T. Estas visas están disponibles a inmigrantes sobrevivientes que ofrecen información o cooperan con la investigación o el procesamiento de un crimen”. La SB 32, que fue aprobada por el Senado con fuerte apoyo bipartidario en mayo, está ahora pendiente en la Cámara de Illinois, donde los defensores esperan sea aprobada durante la próxima sesión de veto de otoño. El Presidente del Senado de Illinois, John Cullerton y las Representantes Estatales, Theresa Mah y Lisa Hernández, asistieron a la conferencia de prensa para dejar oír su apoyo al proyecto.

Tabares Backing Legislation to Provide Relief to Seniors on Fixed Incomes

With rising costs affecting seniors living on fixed incomes, state Rep. Silvana Tabares, D-Chicago, is supporting legislation to eliminate the sales tax on everyday items regularly purchased by many older residents. "I have spoken to many seniors while walking door to door and it is clear they need real tax relief," Tabares said. "As seniors struggle with rising costs, they shouldn't have to face higher and higher taxes on groceries and basic medical supplies. My proposal is a commonsense measure designed to help our most vulnerable residents maintain their health and their financial independence." Tabares' House Bill 4111 would eliminate the sales tax on all grocery items, prescription and nonprescription medication, medical devices used to treat cancer, and items used to treat diabetes, including insulin, syringes and needles. Seniors must be at least 65 years old and be either enrolled in Medicaid or receive assistance through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program to be eligible to be exempt from the sales tax on these items. Tabares Respaldada Legislación para Brindar Alivio a los Ciudadanos Senior con Ingreso Fijo

Con el aumento de costos que afectan a los ciudadanos senior que viven de ingresos fijos, la Rep. estatal Silvana Tabares, D-Chicago, apoya una legislación para eliminar los impuestos de venta de artículos regulares comprados por muchos residentes mayores. "He hablado con muchas personas mayores caminando de puerta en puerta y es claro que necesitan un verdadero alivio en impuestos", dijo Tabares. "Ya que los ciudadanos senior luchan con el aumento de costos no deberían tener que enfrentar impuestos cada vez mayores en abarrotes y suministros médicos básicos. Mi propuesta es una medida de sentido común, diseñada para ayudar a nuestros residentes más vulnerables a mantener su salud y su independencia económica.

El Proyecto de la Cámara 4111 de Tabares eliminaría el impuesto en la venta de todos los abarrotes, medicinas con receta y sin receta, dispositivos médicos para tratar el cáncer y artículos utilizados para tratar la diabetes, incluyendo la insulina, las jeringas y las agujas. Los ciudadanos

Madigan Sues U.S. Department of Education for Refusing to Enforce Gainful Employee Rule

Attorney General Lisa Madigan, along with 17 other attorneys general, filed a lawsuit against the U.S. Department of Education and Secretary Betsy DeVos for refusing to enforce the Gainful Employment Rule, a federal regulation designed to protect students from predatory for-profit schools. The complaint, filed in U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, alleges that the Department of Education violated federal law by refusing to enforce the Gainful Employment Rule, which implements the requirement in the Higher Education Act that for-profit schools, vocational schools and non-degree programs at other schools "prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation." "As the Department of Education eliminates critical oversight such as the Gainful Employment Rule, it abandons millions of students across the country to the false promises of predatory schools," Madigan said. "The Gainful Employment Rule was implemented to protect students from enrolling in programs that fail to provide an education that leads to gainful employment and instead leave students with a lifetime of debt." The Gainful Employment Rule empowers prospective students to make informed decisions by requiring schools to provide information about the program's average debt load, the loan repayment rate of all students who enroll in the program, the percentage of students who graduate from the program, the number of graduates who obtain employment in a field related to the program and the average earnings of graduates. The complaint asks the court to declare the Department's delay notices unlawful and to order the Department to implement the Gainful Employment Rule. Joining Madigan in filing today's suit are the attorneys general from: California, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Delaware, Hawaii, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota,

New York, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia and Washington.

Madigan Demanda al Departamento de Educación de E.U., por Negarse a Poner en Práctica la Regla del Empleo Remunerado

La Procuradora General Lisa Madigan, junto con otros 17 procuradores generales, pusieron una demanda contra el Departamento de Educación de E.U. y la Secretaria Betsy DeVos por negarse a poner en práctica la Regla del Empleo Remunerado, una regla federal diseñada para proteger a los estudiantes, de escuelas depredadoras. La queja, registrada en la

Corte del Distrito de E.U. al Distrito de Columbia, alega que el Departamento de Educación violó la ley federal, negándose a poner en práctica la Regla del Empleo Remunerado, que implementa el requisito del Acta de Educación Superior para escuelas lucrativas, escuelas vocacionales y programas sin título en otras escuelas "preparar a los estudiantes para empleos remunerados en una ocupación reconocida". "Al eliminar el Departamento de Educación la vigilancia crítica, como la de la Regla de Empleo Remunerado, deja a millones de estudiantes del país con falsas promesas de escuelas depredadoras", Dijo Madigan. "La Regla del Empleo Remunerado fue implementada para proteger a los estudiantes de inscribirse en programas que no les dan la educación necesaria para tener un empleo remunerado y por el contrario deja a los estudiantes con una deuda de por vida".

La Regla de Empleo Remunerado hace posible que los presuntos estudiantes tomen decisiones informadas para solicitar escuelas que brinden información sobre la deuda promedio del programa, el índice

de pago del préstamo de todos los estudiantes que se inscriben en el programa, el porcentaje de estudiantes que se gradúan del programa, el número de graduados que obtienen empleo en un campo relacionado al programa y los sueldos promedio de los graduados. la queja pide a la corte que declare ilegales las notas de demora del Departamento

y que ordene que el Departamento implemente la Regla del Empleo Remunerado. Se unen a Madigan en la demanda los procuradores generales de: California, Connecticut, El Distrito de Columbia, Delaware, Hawaii, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nueva York, Carolina del Norte, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia y Washington.

Emanuel, Rauner Announce Submission of Bid for Amazon HQ 2

Mayor Rahm Emanuel and Governor Bruce Rauner announced submission of the Chicago area's bid for Amazon's HQ2. The bid concludes a month-long process that brought together an unprecedented group of stakeholders to develop and support a bid that makes clear Chicago is the ideal place for Amazon to invest billions of dollars and create an estimated 50,000 jobs. The bid was submitted electronically earlier, day one of a four-day window during which Amazon is accepting bids. Amazon expects to invest more than $5 billion for construction of HQ2, and when completed it is expected to employ up to 50,000 people. The report also estimates that for each dollar Amazon invests in operations and construction could generate an additional $2.72 for the overall regional economy. To support the bid, last month the Mayor and Governor announced the formation of a committee that is supporting the drive to bring Amazon's HQ2 to the Chicago area. The committee is co-chaired by Oscar Munoz, CEO of United Airlines.; Penny Pritzker, Founder and Chair of PSP Capital; Jim Reynolds, Chairman and CEO of Loop Capital; and Miles White, Chairman and CEO of Abbott. The Mayor and Governor are serving as Honorary Co-Chairs and Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle is serving as Honorary Vice-Chair. In total, the committee is comprised of more than 600 leaders from across the business, financial, technology, arts and culture, civic and education communities. Bids for HQ2 are due by October 19, 2017. The next steps in the competitive process have not been announced by Amazon. To ensure the competitiveness of Chicago's bid, no additional details will be made available at this time.

El Alcalde Rahm Emanuel y el Gobernador Bruce Rauner anunciaron haber presentado la oferta del área para HQ2 de Amazon. La oferta concluye un mes de proceso que reunió un grupo sin precedentes de partes interesadas para desarrollar y apoyar una oferta que ponga en claro que Chicago es el lugar ideal para que Amazon invierta miles de millones de dólares y cree un estimado de 50,000 empleos. La oferta fue sometida vía electrónica anteriormente, en el día uno del plazo de cuatro días, dentro de los cuales Amazon aceptaba las propuestas. Amazon espera investigar en las coproducciones y construcción que podrían generar $2.72 adicionales para la economía regional en general. Para apoyar la oferta, el mes pasado el Alcalde y el Gobernador anunciaron la formación de un comité que respalda la campaña para traer HQ2 de Amazon al área de Chicago. El comité es copresidido por Oscar Muñoz, CEO de United Airlines; Penny Pritzker, Fundador y Director de PSP capital; Jim Reynolds, Director y CEO de Loop Capital; y Miles White, Director y CEO de Abbott. El Alcalde y el Gobernador están sirviendo como Co-Directores Honorarios y la Presidente de la Junta del Condado de Cook, Toni Preckwinkle, está sirviendo como Vice Directora Honoraria. Las ofertas para HQ2 vencen el 19 de octubre del 2017. Los siguientes pasos en el proceso competitivo no han sido anunciados por Amazon. Ancient Mediterranean Cultures in Contact Arrives This Fall

These days, our world has never felt smaller. It is easier than ever for people from all over the globe to meet and exchange ideas. Though technology has changed the ways we connect with far-off places, these long-distance interactions have occurred for thousands of years, linking people from different societies and creating cross-cultural influences. On October 20th, the Field Museum will open the latest special exhibit, Ancient Mediterranean Cultures in Contact. The exhibit, which runs through April 29th, 2018, shines a spotlight on what happens when societies interact with one another and exchange ideas. Ancient Mediterranean showcases nearly 100 objects from the Field Museum's ancient Egyptian, Roman, Greek, and Etruscan collections.
