Supreme Court Upholds Muslim Ban

By: Ashmar Mandou

The Supreme Court on Tuesday upheld President Trump's ban on foreign visitors and immigrants from predominantly Muslim countries by a 5-4 vote. The current ban covers five Muslim-majority nations – Iran, Libya, Somalia, Syria and Yemen -- as well as North Korea and some government officials from Venezuela. The administration was forced to revise the original order twice to resolve legal problems over due process, implementation and its exclusive targeting of Muslim nations. Upon the ruling, several public leaders released a statement to the media denouncing the court's decision. "This is a sad day for the rule of law and the country. It has been clear from the beginning that President Trump wants fewer legal immigrants – especially people of color – and to many Americans like me, the racism that is driving this policy is self-evident. The victory of the Administration's policy to keep out legal immigrants is further proof that elections have consequences and that the Senate Republican strategy of denying a Democratic President appointments to the Supreme Court in order to allow court vacancies to be filled by a Republican President has worked."

-Statement from Representative Luis V. Gutiérrez

"In its majority opinion, the Supreme Court discusses Korematsu v. US, the 1944 decision upholding the forced evacuation of 120,000 Americans of Japanese descent from the West Coast during World War II. The Court states that "Korematsu was gravely wrong the day it was decided, has been overruled in the court of history, and—to be clear—has no place in law under the Constitution." Just as now, nearly 75 years later, we regard the Korematsu ruling as wrong and the internment of Japanese Americans as a shameful part of US history, so too will history judge as shameful this Administration's attempts to ban immigrants and travelers from predominantly Muslim countries, motivated by nothing more than sheer bigotry and ignorance. And so will history judge as wrong today's Supreme Court ## decision upholding these bans." -Statement from the Illinois Coalition for Immigrant and Refugee Rights

"The Supreme Court upholding Donald Trump's de facto Muslim ban is an appalling decision that runs counter to the core values our country was founded on. It's shameful that this bigoted president is getting away with imposing a poorly disguised religious test for entrance into our country. It's even more shameful that his silent partner, Bruce Rauner, refuses to rebuke Trump for his attempts to exploit our differences and rip apart families. While Rauner is in Washington today, he should send a clear message to the president that his xenophobic travel ban abandons American principles. When I'm governor, Donald Trump will know his hate has no place in Illinois, and I will protect our immigrant families and fight back against Trump's bigoted agenda at every turn."

-Statement from JB Pritzker, Democratic candidate for Illinois Governor

the world contribute to our state and nation. We need policies that are commonsense and compassionate, and Trump's approach is neither. Now is not the time to yield to discouragement, but to fight in the courts and at the ballot box for the rights and values we want to define us."

La Corte Suprema Respalda la Prohibición Musulmana

Por: Ashmar Mandou

La Corte Suprema respaldó el martes la prohibición de Trump sobre visitantes extranjeros e inmigrantes de países predominantemente musulmanes, con un voto de 5-4. La actual prohibición cubre cinco naciones, en su mayoría musulmanas – Irán, Libia, Somalia, Siria y Yemen – así como Corea del Norte y algunos funcionarios de gobierno de Venezuela. La administración fue forzada a revisar dos veces la orden original para resolver problemas legales en debido proceso, la implementación y el blanco exclusivo de las naciones musulmanas. Tras la decisión, varios líderes publicaron una declaración a los medios denunciando la decisión de la corte.

"Este es un día triste por la decisión de la ley y el país. Ha estado claro desde el principio que el Presidente Trump quiere menos inmigrantes legales – especialmente gente de color – y para muchos estadounidenses como yo, el racismo que mueve esta política es evidente. La victoria de la política de la administración de mantener fuera a inmigrantes legales es una prueba más de que las elecciones tienen consecuencias y que la estrategia del Senado Republicano de negar que un Presidente demócrata fuera nombrado a la Corte Suprema para permitir que las vacantes de la corte fueran ocupadas por un Presidente republicano ha funcionado”. —Declaración del Representante Luis V. Gutiérrez.

“En su opinión mayoritaria, la Corte Suprema discute Korematsu v. US, la decisión de 1944 que apoya la evacuación forzada de 120,000 estadounidenses de descendencia japonesa, de la Costa Oeste, durante la Segunda Guerra Mundial. La Corte declara que Korematsu fue un grave error el día en que se decidió, ha sido revocado en la corte de historia y — para ser claros — ‘no tiene lugar en la ley bajo la Constitución’”. Igual que ahora, cerca de 75 años más tarde, vemos la regla de Korematsu tan equivocada y el internamiento de japoneses americanos como una parte vergonzosa de la historia de EU, por lo tanto la historia juzgará igualmente vergonzosos los intentos de esta administración de prohibir la entrada al país de inmigrantes y viajeros de países predominantemente musulmanes, motivado por nada más que fanatismo puro e ignorancia. E igual juzgará la historia como equivocada la decisión de la Corte Suprema de Defender estas prohibiciones”. — Declaración de la Coalición pro Derechos del Refugiado y el Inmigrante de Illinois.

“El que la Corte Suprema defienda la prohibición musulmana es una terrible decisión que va en contra de los valores fundamentales sobre los que está fundado nuestro país. Es vergonzoso que este presidente fanático se salga con la suya imponiendo una prueba religiosa mal disfrazada para entrar a nuestro país. Es aún más vergonzoso que su socio silencioso, Bruce Rauner, se niegue a censurar a Trump por sus intentos de explotar nuestras diferencias y separar a las familias. Mientras Rauner está hoy en Washington, debería enviar un claro mensaje al presidente de que su xenofóbica prohibición de viaje no está de acuerdo con los principios estadounidenses. Cuando yo sea gobernador, Donald Trump sabrá que su odio no tiene lugar en Illinois y protegeré a nuestras familias inmigrantes y combatiré la fanática agenda de Trump en todas sus faces”. — Declaración de JB Pritzker, candidato demócrata para Gobernador de Illinois.

“La actual administración presidencial basó su enfoque en los inmigrantes y refugiados sobre prejuicios religiosos y étnicos desde el momento en que Donald Trump anunciara su candidatura. Como hijo de inmigrantes de Haití, nación que Trump ridiculizó llamándola “de porquería”, estoy muy conciente de los desagradables prejuicios que impulsan las políticas del presidente. La decisión de hoy, de defender su orden ejecutiva prohibiendo la entrada principalmente a países en su mayoría musulmanes permite la distorsión deliberada de su administración por los valores estadounidenses y la Constitución. Entiendo las incontables maneras en que gente de todo el mundo contribuye con nuestra estado y con nuestra nación. Necesitamos políticas con sentido común y compasión y el enfoque de Trump carece de ambas. Este no es el momento de desanimarnos, sino de luchar en las cortes y en las casetas de votación por los derechos y valores que queremos que nos definan”. —Declaración del candidato demócrata para Procurador General, Kwame Raoul.

U.S. Supreme Court Rules Against Unions

By: Ashmar Mandou

The U.S. Supreme Court on Wednesday handed a profound setback for union members as they voted 5-4 in the case, Janus v. the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees Council 31, ruling that public sector workers who are represented by unions cannot be required to pay any union dues. The Janus case was originally prompted by Illinois’ governor, Bruce Rauner, as part of a national effort to challenge a national teachers’ movement against austerity, de-fund public sector unions, divest from working class communities of color and undercut workers’ rights. Upon the announcement, Gov. Rauner released a statement to the press, stating “For decades, Illinois workers have been forced to pay partial union dues against their will.

The practice infringed on the constitutional rights of public sector workers who were asked to give up their First Amendment rights as a condition of employment. This decision fairly reinstates those rights.” However, several opponents voiced their disappointment in the ruling. “When working people are united in a union, they have the power to raise wages, secure basic needs like healthcare coverage, improve their jobs and make life better for themselves and their families. Today’s Supreme Court decision sides with right-wing anti-worker forces to attack our basic rights, but we know that the labor movement is bigger than any right-wing court decision, bigger than any billionaire, or corporation. Our labor movement will never die because it is reborn every time a woman says no to sexual harassment in the workplace, every time a worker goes on strike, every time a worker demands dignity in the workplace and stands up for their rights.” -Alderman Carlos Ramirez-Rosa

“The U.S. Supreme Court’s 5-4 decision in the Janus vs. AFSCME case today is the culmination of yet another partisan effort to weaken and undercut public employee unions. Janus was funded and supported by corporate interest groups that want to make it harder for workers to stand united. The decision means that public sector employees can now choose to not pay fair share dues to the unions that secure for them fair wages and safe working conditions. Collective bargaining remains important to the fabric of our nation’s working landscape and I will continue to support unions and the efforts undertaken to protect working families.” -Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle

“Bosses around the country—including the billionaire in Springfield and the con man in Washington DC—are celebrating today’s Supreme Court’s decision. Janus vs. AFSCME Council 31 is a craven attack, underwritten by the wealthiest members of our rigged economy, on the ability of workers to fight for good jobs and robust public services. But the ruling by Trump’s Supreme Court should be no surprise. The real question is who will fight back? In Chicago and Illinois, union jobs in public schools, hospitals, and transportation were a pathway to the middle class for women and Black and Brown families.” -Emma Tai, executive director of United Working Families (UWF)

La Corte Suprema de E.U. Falla Contra los Sindicatos

Por: Ashmar Mandou

La Corte Suprema de E.U., dio un profundo revés a los miembros de sindicato el miércoles, ya que votó 5-4 en el caso Janus v. la Federación Estadounidense del Concilio 31 de Empleados Municipales, del Estado y el Condado, determinando que a los trabajadores del sector público que están representados por sindicatos no puede exigírseles que paguen cuotas de sindicato. El caso Janus, fue originalmente iniciado por el gobernador de Illinois, Bruce Rauner, como parte de un esfuerzo nacional de retar el movimiento nacional de maestros contra la austeridad, desfinanciar los sindicatos del sector público, desprenderse de comunidades de color de la clase trabajadora y socavar los derechos de los trabajadores. Tras el anuncio, el Gob. Rauner publicó una declaración a la prensa, diciendo “Por décadas, los trabajadores de Illinois se han visto forzados a pagar cuotas parciales al sindicato contra su voluntad. La práctica infringe los derechos constitucionales de los trabajadores del sector público a quienes se pidió renunciar a sus derechos de la Primera Enmienda como condición de empleo. Esta decisión reinstala justamente esos derechos”. Sin embargo, varios oponentes dejaron oír su desilusión contra el fallo.

“Cuando la gente trabajadora se une en un sindicato, tiene el poder de aumentar los salarios, asegurar necesidades básicas, como la cobertura de salud, mejorar sus empleos y tener una vida mejor para ellos y sus familias. La decisión de la Corte Suprema de hoy se alía con las fuerzas derechistas antiobreras para atacar nuestros derechos básicos, pero sabemos que el movimiento del trabajo es mayor que cualquier decisión de la corte de derecha, mayor que cualquier multimillonario, o corporación. Nuestro movimiento de trabajo nunca muere porque renace cada vez que una mujer dice no al acoso sexual en el lugar de trabajo, cada vez que un trabajador se lanza a la huelga, cada vez que un trabajador pide dignidad en el trabajo y lucha por sus derechos”. -Concejal Carlos Ramirez-Rosa

La decisión de la Corte Suprema 5-4 en el caso Janus vs. AFSCME hoy es la culminación de otro esfuerzo partisano para debilitar y socavar los sindicatos de empleados públicos. Janus fue fundado y apoyado por grupos de interés corporativo que quieren dificultar que los trabajadores permanezcan unidos. La decisión significa que los empleados del sector público pueden ahora escoger no pagar contribución justa a los sindicatos que les aseguran salarios justos y condiciones de trabajo seguras. La negociación colectiva sigue siendo importante para la fabricación del panorama de trabajadores de nuestra nación y continuaré apoyando los sindicatos y los esfuerzos que hacen para proteger a las familias trabajadoras”. -Presidenta de la Junta del Condado de Cook, Toni Preckwinkle

“Los jefes de todo el país – incluyendo los multimillonarios en Springfield y los estafadores de Washington DC – están celebrando hoy la decisión de la Corte Suprema. Janus vs. AFSCME Council 31 es un cobarde ataque, suscrito por los miembros más adinerados de nuestra arreglada economía, sobre la habilidad de los trabajadores para luchar por buenos empleos y buenos servicios públicos. Pero el fallo de la Corte Suprema de Trump no debería sorprendernos. La verdadera pregunta es ¿Quién luchará? En Chicago y en Illinois, trabajos de sindicato en las escuelas pública, hospitales y transporte fueron un medio para la clase media, para las mujeres y para las familias negras e hispanas”. -Emma Tai, directora ejecutiva de United Working Families (UWF)

Activists Reveal Companies
Profit from Police Violence in a New Police Brutality Bonds Report

On Wednesday, the Action Center on Race & the Economy (ACRE) held a press conference to release the new “POLICE BRUTALITY BONDS: How Wall Street Profits from Police Violence,” report showing the estimated cost of police misconduct for taxpayers in several U.S. cities and counties around the country, and naming several well-known companies who continue to profit from police violence. Police violence and misconduct cases are on the rise throughout cities across the United States wreaking havoc particularly on communities of color, causing debt, and leaving taxpayers to pick up the tab while banks and investors profit. The report features 12 cities and counties, as well as five case studies on: Chicago, Cleveland, Lake County (Indiana), Los Angeles, and Milwaukee. Across these five municipalities, ACRE estimated $1.87 billion in public debt stemming from police violence and the excessive settlement and judgment costs. Of the $1.87 billion in costs related to police brutality bonds, more than half - $1 billion - was investor profit. The interest and service fees on these bonds can nearly double the cost of the original settlement—leading to substantial profit for banks, investors, and a financial burden for everyone else. ACRE is encouraging the public to sign a petition calling on elected officials, cities, police and Wall Street to end policies that facilitate cycles of economic and physical violence in Black and Brown neighborhoods. The group also plans to push for public hearings, and eventually, enshrined policy changes that improve training and financial accountability.
