A pool of politicians and faith based leaders rallied in support of auto mechanic Oscar Robles, father of two U.S. citizen daughters ages 11 and 8, on Tuesday in front of press conference to lend their voice in support of Robles. Robles is among the many immigrants who the government knows are living in the U.S. illegally, but who, under the previous administration, were not considered the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services to call on the Department of Homeland Security to stop his deportation and keep his family together. Congressman Luis Gutierrez, Exelon Chairman Emeritus John Rowe, City Clerk Anna Valencia, and members of The Resurrection Project, Illinois Business Immigration Coalition, and Instituto del Progreso Latino attended the priorities for deportation because of their lack of a criminal record. The current administration has aggressively pursued the detention and deportation of individuals with completely clean records like Robles who year after year have faithfully obeyed the court extensions on their cases to remain in this country. 11 años de edad, el martes, frente a la oficina de Servicios de Inmigración y Ciudadanía de E.U., para pedir al Departamento de Seguridad en el País que detenga su deportación y mantenga su familia unida. El Congresista Luis Gutiérrez, el Director de Exelon, Interino John Rowe, la Secretaria de la Ciudad, Anna Valencia y miembros de El Proyecto Resurrección, Illinois Business Immigration Coalition y el Instituto del Progreso Latino asistieron a la conferencia de prensa para dejar oír su voz en apoyo de Robles. Robles es uno de muchos inmigrantes que el gobierno sabe vive en E.U. ilegalmente, pero que, bajo la administración anterior, no eran considerados prioridad para la deportación por su falta de récord criminal. La actual administración ha persiguido agresivamente la detención y la deportación de personas con récords completamente limpios, como Robles, quien año tras año ha obedecido fielmente las extensiones de la corte en su caso para permanecer en este país. Como las revisiones de inmigración se han convertido en trampas de deportación para los inmigrantes indocumentados de todo el país, funcionarios electos, el comercio y líderes comunitarios y religiosos se unieron a Robles en su cita de inmigración y exhortan a Homeland Security a detener su deportación y mantener su familia unida.

Los Estudiantes Latinos Brillarán en el Programa Solar Spotlight de ComEd

Hoy, los latinos conforman el 2 por ciento de los estudiantes que se gradúan en carreras de ciencia, tecnología, ingeniería y matemáticas (STEM), el sector laboral que más rápido está creciendo. ComEd está buscando cambiar esa tendencia al anunciar el tercer programa anual "Solar Spotlight", diseñado para inspirar a los estudiantes latinos de las escuelas secundarias, a que estudien carreras en STEM. El programa Solar Spotlight de ComEd consiste en dos sesiones de trabajo donde los estudiantes aprenderán y aplicarán los principios de la energía solar. Los participantes construirán maletas We Share Solar® Suitcases, que son unas unidades eléctricas portátiles, equipadas con paneles solares que producen luz y suficiente energía para cargar aparatos electrónicos pequeños por varias horas. Los estudiantes trabajarán con los mentores de ComEd para armar y probar el funcionamiento de las maletas solares.

Jessica Covarrubias

By: Ashmar Mandou

Born and raised on the south side of Chicago, Jessica Covarrubias is forging a path as one of the few Latinas working at Google. "People like me who grew up on the south side of Chicago are not supposed to be in places like Google because the odds are stacked against us from a very young age," said Covarrubias. "I saw the disparity in Chicago public schools because I was a product of the Chicago public school system and when I visited other high schools that had more, in terms of funding and resources I knew I had to work doubly hard to earn the education I deserved." Her tenacity paid off as Covarrubias became age, instilled in me the importance of education. Education is the greatest equalizer. It is the one thing that cannot be taken away from you and the one thing that opens up a path of possibilities. From a very young age I took my education seriously and worked hard," said Covarrubias, whose parents emigrated from Jalisco, Mexico to the United States in the 80s. Grounded in her love for education, Covarrubias has made it her mission to close the digital gap within her community by visiting students at Chicago public schools and sharing her knowledge to inspire the next wave of inquisitive Latinos. "Who would I be if I didn't give back to my community? My community that has given me so much; that has invested in me. My community that has seen me grow," said Covarrubias. "It's beyond emotional to see these kids, to see their faces, faces that look like mine be inspired." As we celebrate the contributions and achievements of Latinos during Hispanic Heritage Month, Covarrubias encouraged young Latinos to become self-advocates whilst honoring their roots. "During Hispanic Heritage Month we take time for self-reflection and honor those that have paved the way for us to follow. I would say to all my young Latinos to not allow your circumstance to define you. You are destined for something great. Take what you have and find a way to make it work for you and when you reach a level of success, in whatever form that is, always go back home to teach the younger generation. That's how we will continue to succeed as a community."

sus aplicaciones prácticas en el mundo real, ellos podrán desplegar todo su potencial en la fuerza laboral en este sector de STEM, impactando el medio ambiente y nuestras comunidades." Los estudiantes participantes en este programa único tendrán también la oportunidad de armar paneles solares que serán utilizados para iluminar réplicas de emblemáticos edificios de Chicago. Cada réplica tendrá luces de los colores de la bandera de una de las naciones latinoamericanas. Estas réplicas de los edificios serán exhibidos a lo largo de la pasarela (runway) durante la semana del "Latino Fashion Week" en Chicago, a mediados de octubre. "Queremos que la silueta de Chicago motive a la próxima generación de líderes latinos en el área de la energía eléctrica y solar", dijo Dominguez. "Queremos que los estudiantes de este programa descubran el potencial que hay ellos para alcanzar un brillante futuro, como parte de la fuerza laboral en el área de STEM." Nacida y criada en el lado sur de Chicago, Jessica Covarrubias está forjando un camino como una de las pocas mujeres latinas que trabaja en Google. "La gente como yo, que creció en el lado sur de Chicago no se supone que este en un lugar como Google, porque las probabilidades están contra nosotros desde muy temprana edad", dice Covarrubias. "Y vi la disparidad en las escuelas públicas de Chicago porque soy un producto del sistema de escuelas públicas de Chicago y cuando visité otras secundarias que tenían más, en cuanto a fondos y recursos, supe que tenía que trabajar lo doble para tener la educación que merecía".

Su tenacidad rindió fruto ya que Covarrubias se convirtió en la creadora de Be Internet Awesome de Google, programa educativo sobre ciudadanía digital y seguridad en línea que fue lanzado el año pasado y en versión en español, este año. Durante su época en Google, fue también la Administradora de Mercadeo de Productos en YouTube Kids. Covarrubias obtuvo un MBA y MA en Educación de la Universidad de la puerta a una plétora de posibilidades. Desde muy joven tomé mi educación muy en serio y trabajé mucho", dice Covarrubias, cuyos padres emigraron de Jalisco, México a Estados Unidos, en los 80s.

En base a su amor por la educación, Covarrubias ha hecho su misión cerrar la brecha digital dentro de su comunidad, visitando a los estudiantes de las escuelas públicas de Chicago y compartiendo su conocimiento para inspirar la próxima ola de latinos inquisitivos. "¿Quién sería yo si no retribuyera a mi comunidad? Mi comunidad me ha dado tanto, mi comunidad me ha visto crecer", dijo Covarrubias. Es más que emocional ver a estos niños, ver sus rostros, rostros que se parecen a los míos, estar inspirados".

Al celebrar las contribuciones y logros de los latinos durante el Mes de la Herencia Hispana, Covarrubias exhortó a los jóvenes latinos a convertirse en autogestores mientras honran sus raíces. "Durante el Mes de la Herencia Hispana tomamos tiempo para auto-reflexionar y honrar a los que han pavimentado el camino para nosotros. Yo les diría a todos mis jóvenes latinos que no permitan que sus circunstancias los definan. Están destinados para algo grande. Tomen lo que tengan y encuentren una forma de hacerlo que funcione para ustedes y cuando alcancen un nivel de éxito, en cualquier forma que sea, regresen siempre a casa para enseñar a la generación más joven. Es así como continuaremos triunfando como comunidad".

Latino Students to Shine at ComEd's Solar Spotlight

Today, Latinos make up just two percent of students graduating with degrees in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM), the fastest growing career segment. ComEd is seeking to change that as it kicks off its third-annual Solar Spotlight program designed to inspire Latino high school students to pursue STEM career. ComEd's Solar Spotlight program takes Latino students on a two-day "journey" where they learn and apply key principles of solar energy. Participants help build We Share Solar® Suitcases – portable power units, equipped with solar panels, that produce light and enough power to charge small devices for several hours. Students will work with ComEd mentors as they assemble and test functional solar suitcases. ComEd hopes to inspire Solar Spotlight students to consider STEM careers as they progress through school. "As the largest ethnic community in the country, Latinos have the power to make great contributions to STEM fields," said Joe Dominguez, CEO of ComEd. "If we can inspire students by combining science and engineering education with real-world applications, they may realize their full potential in the STEM workforce and their own impact on the environment and our communities." Students taking part in this unique program will also assemble solar panels that will be used to light a replica of some of Chicago's most iconic buildings. Each building will have lights in the colors of a different Latin American flag. The building replicas will be featured along the runway during Chicago's Latino Fashion Week in mid-October. "We want Chicago's skyline to motivate the next generation of Latino leaders in power and solar energy," Dominguez said. "We want students in our program to realize their potential for a bright future as a part of the STEM workforce." Cicero recibirá un premio de $25,000, junto a una red de comunidades premiadas y hace que sus inspirantes logros sean compartidos por toda la nación. Para ser un ganador de RWJFD Culture of Health Prize, Cicero tuvo que demostrar como se destacó en los siguientes seis criterios:

- Definición de la salud en los términos más altos posibles.
- Compromiso a cambios de sistemas sostenibles y soluciones a largo plazo orientadas a la política.
- La creación de condiciones que den a todos una oportunidad justa de alcanzar su mejor salud posible.

- Aprovechando el poder colectivo de los líderes, afiliaciones y miembros de la comunidad.
- Asegurando y teniendo los mejores recursos disponibles.
- Midiendo y compartiendo el progreso y los resultados.

Annual Back to School Fair at McDonalds

The Hispanic owner-operator Carmen Solano De Carrier and her team put a smile on the faces of children and their parents at the Annual Back to School Fair. This year the fair was extended to four dates and four McDonald's restaurants where 2000 backpacks were distributed. In each of the locations, hundreds of parents and their children, formed long lines to receive one of the backpacks that also contained school materials. In addition to motivating kids to go back to school with a new backpack, the fair helps alleviate family expenses that tend to increase at this time of the year. Leading the day's activities was Carmen Solano De Carrier, who also took the opportunity to greet parents and thank members of the community for their support.

Feria Anual de Regreso a la Escuela en McDonalds

Carmen Solano De Carrier, operadora propietaria hispana de un McDonald's y su equipo, hicieron sonreír a los niños y a sus padres en la Feria Anual de Regreso a la Escuela. Este año, la feria se extendió a cuatro fechas y cuatro restaurantes McDonald's, donde se distribuyeron 2000 mochilas. En cada uno de los lugares, cientos de padres y sus hijos formaron largas filas para recibir una mochila que contenía también útiles escolares. Además de motivar a los niños a regresar a la escuela con una nueva mochila, la feria les ayuda a aliviar los gastos familiares, que tienden a aumentar en esta época del año. Encabezando las actividades del día estuvo Carmen Solano De

Carrier, quien aprovechó la oportunidad para saludar a los padres y agradecer su apoyo a los miembros de la comunidad.

Cicero Student Esmeralda Mariscal Receives Prestigious Psychology Scholarship

Dominican University junior Esmeralda Mariscal is one of only eight students across the country to receive a 2018-2019 undergraduate scholarship from Psi Chi, an international honor society in psychology with 1,500 chapters in the United States, Canada and multiple countries. The honor society received 165 applications for the $3,000 scholarship. Mariscal, a resident of Cicero, is pursuing an undergraduate degree in psychology at Dominican University. A first-generation college student, Mariscal became interested in psychology as a student at Morton East High School. While taking an AP psychology class, she was interested in the topic of memory retention. "I am interested in how individuals retain memories and the accuracy of those memories over time. I am studying how the emotional component of memories can keep them vivid in the mind," she said. Mariscal is conducting research with her Dominican psychology professor on how young people learn to cope with stress. She and a group of fellow Dominican students are mentoring students at an elementary school in Chicago's Englewood neighborhood and teaching them healthy coping skills. Many of the students are dealing with community violence, poverty, lack of resources, underfunded schools and family stress. After graduating, Mariscal plans on working as a case manager or advocate for a nonprofit organization serving an ethnic population. She also is considering pursuing a master's degree or law school to prepare her for serving as a victims' advocate in the courts.

First Ever National Hispanic Cancer Awareness Day

The first ever National Hispanic Cancer Awareness Day (NHCAD) has been established. The goals for this important campaign are to raise visibility, promote prevention and early detection, mobilize communities around this issue, and share hope. The day selected to raise awareness and unite communities was September 15-the first day of Hispanic Heritage Month. Cancer is the number one killer among Hispanics/Latinos nationally according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Faith communities, community based organizations, media, academic institutions, researchers, healthcare institutions, and civic leaders, along with elected officials will unite to take action against cancer. # Cauliflower Rice-Stuffed Peppers

Ingredients

4 servings
 4 large bell peppers (about 2 pounds)
 2 cups small cauliflower florets
 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil, divided Pinch of salt plus ½ teaspoon, divided Pinch of ground pepper plus ¼ teaspoon, divided ½ cup chopped onion
 1 pound lean ground beef
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 ½ teaspoon dried oregano
 1 (8 ounce) can no-salt-added tomato sauce
 ½ cup shredded part-skim mozzarella

Preparation

1.Preheat oven to 350°F.
 2.Slice off stem ends of bell peppers. Cut the flesh from the stem and chop. You should have about 1 cup. Scoop out seeds from the pepper cavities. Bring about an inch of water to a boil in a large pot fitted with a steamer basket. Steam the peppers until starting to soften, about 3 minutes. Remove the peppers from the pot and set aside.

 3.Pulse cauliflower in a food processor until broken down into rice-size pieces. Heat 1 tablespoon oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Add the cauliflower rice and a pinch each of salt and pepper. Cook, stirring, until softened and starting to brown, about 3 minutes. Transfer to a small bowl.

 4.Wipe out the pan. Add the remaining 1 tablespoon oil, the chopped bell pepper and onion. Cook, stirring, until starting to soften, about 3 minutes. Add beef, garlic, oregano and the remaining ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Cook, stirring and breaking up the beef with a wooden spoon just until no longer pink, about 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce and the cauliflower rice; stir to coat.

 5.Place the peppers upright in an 8-inch square baking dish. Fill each pepper with a generous 1 cup of the cauliflower rice mixture. Top each pepper with 2 tablespoons cheese.

 6.Bake until the filling is heated through and the cheese is melted, 20 to 25 minutes.
 To make ahead: Prepare stuffed peppers through Step 5 and refrigerate for up to 1 day.
