Lori E. Lightfoot on Monday was sworn in as the 56th Mayor of Chicago with her wife, Amy Eshleman, and daughter, Vivian, at her side. Thousands of members of the public attended the inaugural ceremony at Wintrust Arena to participate and celebrate this momentous achievement in Chicago's history.

"To those who are alone, we are with you. To those who need a home, we will shelter you. For those who have little, we will do much. We see you. We hear you. We are your neighbors. And—so help me—we will not pass you by," said Mayor Lightfoot.

Mayor Lightfoot took the oath of office administered by the Honorable Susan E. Cox, Magistrate Judge, U.S. District Court of the Northern District of Illinois and long-time friend of the Mayor. Preceding Mayor Lightfoot taking the oath, Clerk Anna Valencia, all fifty City Council members (including 12 new members), and Treasurer Melissa Conyears-Ervin were also sworn in.

Civil War general from Illinois considered creator of Memorial Day

Civil War General John A. Logan is credited with creating what we know today as Memorial Day, according to the executive director of the museum in Murphysboro, Illinois, that is dedicated to him. Logan was born Feb. 9, 1826 in Jackson County, Illinois, on family property that became a part of the City of Murphysboro in 1843. "General Logan founded Memorial Day as a national holiday," said P. Michael Jones, executive director of the General John A. Logan Museum. "He did that when he issued General Order Number 11 on May 5, 1868, as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, sometimes referred to as the GAR." Jones said several cities have claimed to be the first to observe Memorial Day – or Decoration Day, as it was called after the Civil War.

"The question is not who started the Memorial Day we have today, it was John A. Logan," Jones said. "The question is, where did Logan get his idea?" Jones said historians have several theories about where it started. However, according to research, newspapers printed in the 1930s and 1940s stated Memorial Day started in the South. Jones said today some Southern states observe Confederate Memorial Day. In her book "Reminiscences of a Soldier's Wife: An Autobiography," Logan's wife, Mary Logan, wrote about her March 1868 visit to Virginia:

"In the churchyard near Petersburg we saw hundreds of the graves of Confederate soldiers. These graves had upon them small bleached Confederate flags and faded flowers." She said her husband Gen. Logan was interested in her trip when she returned and told him how touched she was to see the decorated graves. Gen. Logan issued the General Order to observe Memorial Day two months later, in May 1868. However, Jones said historians believe John A. Logan should have been aware of the memorial observations being made in the South due to press coverage at the time. Logan, as commander-in-chief of the GAR, a Union veterans organization, issued General Order Number 11, the Memorial Day Order, on May 5, 1868 from the GAR Headquarters in Washington, D.C. Jones said the GAR was a precursor to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

At the time he issued his General Order, Logan was also an Illinois representative at large of the U.S. House of Representatives, representing the whole state of Illinois and not one specific district. The Memorial Day General Order states: "The 30th of May, 1868 is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land."

"Let us, then, at the time appointed, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds about them with the choicest flowers of springtime. "It is the purpose of the commander in chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades." According to Jones, Logan's General Order is still read during Memorial Day ceremonies around the United States. Charles Mills can be reached at charles.mills@effinghamdailynews.com.

General de la Guerra Civil de Illinois Considerado Creador del Memorial Day

Por Charles Mills
Effingham Daily News

Al General de la Guerra Civil, John A. Logan, se le acredita el haber creado lo que ahora conocemos como el Memorial Day (Día del Recuerdo) de acuerdo al director ejecutivo del museo en Murphysboro, Illinois, dedicado a él. Logan nació el 9 de febrero de 1826 en Jackson County, Illinois en propiedad familiar que se convirtió en parte de la ciudad de Murphysboro en 1843. "El General Logan instituyó el Memorial Day como fiesta nacional", dijo P. Michael Jones, director ejecutivo del Museo General John A. Logan. "Lo hizo cuando emitió la orden general número 11, el 5 de mayo de 1868, como comandante en jefe del Gran Ejército de la República, algunas veces llamado GAR". Jones dijo que varias ciudades han reclamado ser las primeras en observar el Memorial Day – o Decoration Day, como se le llamó después de la Guerra Civil.

"La pregunta es no quien inició el Memorial Day que celebramos hoy, fue John A. Logan", dijo Jones. "La pregunta es, ¿De dónde sacó Logan la idea?" Jones dijo que los historiadores tienen varias teorías sobre donde empezó. Sin embargo, de acuerdo a investigaciones, los periódicos impresos en 1930s y 1940s declaran que el Memorial Day empezó en el sur. Jones dijo hoy que algunos estados del sur observan el Memorial Day Confederado. En su libro "Reminiscences of a Soldiers' Wife: Una Autobiografía", la esposa de Logan, Mary Logan, escribió sobre su visita a Virginia en Marzo de 1868:

"En el cementerio cerca a Petersburg, vimos cientos de tumbas de soldados confederados. Estas tumbas tenían sobre ellas pequeñas banderas semi borradas de los confederados y flores marchitas". Dijo que su esposo, el Gen Logan, se interesó en su viaje cuando regresó y le dijo lo conmovida que se mostró al ver las tumbas decoradas. El Gen. Logan expidió la Orden General de observar el Memorial Day dos meses más tarde, en mayo de 1868. Sin embargo, Jones dice que los historiadores creen que John A. Logan pudo haber sabido de las celebración del memorial Day en el sur, debido a la cobertura de prensa en esa época. Logan, como comandante en jefe del GAR, organización de veteranos de la unión, expidió la Orden General Número 11, la orden del Memorial Day, el 5 de mayo de 1868 de las Oficinas de GAR en Washington, D.C. Jones dijo que GAR fue precursora de Veterans of Foreign Wars y de American Legion.

Cuando expidió su Orden General, Logan era también representante de Illinois de la Cámara de Representantes de E.U., representando a todo el estado de

Mayor Lightfoot Signs First Executive Order to Limit Aldermanic Prerogative

In her first hours after being sworn in as the 56th Mayor of the City of Chicago, Mayor Lori E. Lightfoot signed her first Executive Order instructing departments to end the practice of aldermanic prerogative in department processes where it is controlled by the Mayor and city departments. "This is a historic day for the city. In my campaign for mayor, I pledged to bring an end to aldermanic prerogative and ensure our government delivers equitable services to all of Chicago's communities, regardless of their zip code," said Mayor Lightfoot. "Today, I have instructed City departments to begin to end the process of aldermanic prerogative as the first step in a comprehensive ethics reform package to reform the way government works in Chicago."

The Executive Order streamlines administrative decisions made throughout City departments by eliminating the aldermanic veto while preserving aldermanic voice in departmental decisions. The process by which residents and businesses seek to obtain licensing, permitting and other areas affected by the Executive Order will not change, and Aldermen will still retain input in the delivery of key city services. "In neighborhoods across our city, Aldermen are committed to ensuring that our residents receive access to high quality services. The Executive Order will streamline service delivery, so that every neighborhood receives the same high quality services as the next," said Alderman

Gilbert Villegas. "Working together with the Mayor's Office, we will continue to ensure that all levels of government are held accountable to the needs of all of our residents, and that Aldermen continue to play a central role in developing policies that help grow all of our communities."

La Alcaldesa Lightfoot Firma su Primera Orden Ejecutiva para Limitar la Prerrogativa Aldermánica

Lightfoot firmó su primera Orden Ejecutiva, instruyendo a los departamentos a terminar la práctica de la prerrogativa aldermánica en los procesos de los departamentos controlados por el Alcalde y los departamentos de la ciudad. "Este es un día histórico para la ciudad. En mi campaña para alcalde, Prometí terminar con la prerrogativa aldermánica y garantizar que nuestro gobierno presta servicios equitativos a todas las comunidades de Chicago, sin importar su zona postal", dijo la Alcaldesa Lightfoot. "Hoy, he instruido a los departamentos de la Ciudad a comenzar a terminar el proceso de la prerrogativa aldermánica como primer paso de un paquete de reforma ética integral para reformar la forma en que el gobierno funciona en Chicago".

Avoid Illness While Traveling Memorial Day Weekend

Memorial Day marks the unofficial start of summer. According to AAA, more than 41.5 million Americans will travel this Memorial Day weekend by car, plane, or train. Nothing ruins a long-awaited vacation faster than getting sick or being in medical distress. We turned to Dr. Niket Sonpal, an NYC internist and gastroenterologist for some tips on how to avoid health consequences while traveling.

Avoid Deep

Vein Thrombosis

Deep vein Thrombosis (DVT) occurs when a blood clot (thrombus) forms in one or more of the deep veins in your body, usually in your legs. Deep vein thrombosis can cause leg pain or swelling, but also can occur with no symptoms. For travelers, this can happen on long haul trips where you are not moving. Dr. Sonpal recommends if you are flying or on a train, to move around the cabin to get the blood flowing in your legs. If you are driving, take a break at a rest stop and walk around. Compression socks are also another option to prevent DVT.

Don't Get Nauseous

People can experience motion sickness on virtually any mode of transportation. To combat this, Dr. Sonpal suggests Dramamine® Non-Drowsy Naturals, Dramamine®'s first non-drowsy formulation. It contains the clinically tested ginger dosage required for preventing and treating motion sickness. Other sources of ginger, including candies, gums, or ginger ale, may not contain a full clinical dose. For someone who is already experiencing nausea while traveling, it is a good idea to keep Emetrol on hand which is an over the counter nausea medication that does not cause drowsiness.

Avoid Bloating on a Plane

If you get gassy on a plane, you're not alone! Dr. Sonpal explains that, "As the pressure around you decreases, the gas in your belly isn't constrained as much and it expands. This can make you feel bloated or become distended." It is essential to avoid foods that cause gas or have salt. Skip the tomato juice in flight and stick with non-carbonated water. Avoid alcohol, cruciferous vegetables, dairy and high sodium snacks such as salted peanuts or pretzels. Foods that are protein packed, magnesium-rich and high in Vitamin C are good options.

Sanitize Your Surfaces

Planes and trains are a breeding ground for illness. The former are awful due to re-circulated air. Most travelers would be appalled if they really knew how germey their tray tables are! Dr. Sonpal suggests sanitizing wipes for your tray table, seat belt clip and hand rests of your seats on planes and trains. When you exit a restroom on a plane or train and touch the door handles, be sure to use hand sanitizer even if you already washed your hands.

Evite Enfermedades Mientras Viaja el Fin de Semana de Memorial Day

El memorial Day marca el comienzo no oficial del verano. De acuerdo a AAA, más de 41.5 millones de estadounidenses viajarán este fin de semana de Memorial Day en auto, avión o tren. Nada arruina más unas vacaciones que enfermarse o tener problemas médicos. Acudimos al Dr. Niket Sonpal, internista y gastroenterólogo de NYC para que nos recomendará como evitar problemas de salud mientras viajamos.

Evite la Trombosis Venosa Profunda

La Trombosis Venosa Profunda (DVT) ocurre cuando un coágulo sanguíneo (trombo) se forma en una o más de las venas profundas en su cuerpo, usualmente en las piernas. La trombosis venosa profunda puede causar dolor en la pierna o hinchazón, pero puede ocurrir también sin síntomas. Para los viajeros, esto puede ocurrir en viajes largos donde no se mueven. El Dr. Sonpal recomienda, si está usted volando o en un tren, que camine alrededor de la cabina para hacer que la sangre fluya en sus piernas. Si está manejando, deténgase en un lugar de descanso y camine un poco. Los calcetines de compresión es otra cosa que debe evitar para prevenir el DVT.

No se Sienta con Náuseas

La gente puede experimentar mareo en virtualmente cualquier modo de transporte. Para combatir esto, el Dr. Sonpal sugiere el Dramamine® Non-Drowsy Naturals, Dramamine® la primera fórmula que no causa sueño. Contiene la dosis de gengibre, probada clínicamente, que se requiere para la prevención y el tratamiento del mareo por viaje. Otras fuentes de gengibre, incluyendo dulces, chicles o ginger ale, pueden no contener la dosis clínica adecuada. Para quien ya sabe que se mareo y tiene náuseas mientras viaja, es una buena idea tener Emetrol a mano, que es una medicina contra la náusea que se vende sin receta y que no causa sueño.

Evite Abotagarse en un Avión Si usted se llena de gases en un avión, ¡justo no está solo! El Dr. Sonpal explica que, "Como la presión a su alrededor disminuye, el gas en su vientre no está tan limitado y se expande". Es esencial evitar comidas que causen gas o que tengan sal. Evite el jugo de tomate en los vuelos y tome agua no carbonada. Evite el alcohol, los vegetales crucíferos, la leche y los bocadillos altos en sal, como los cacahuates o los pretzels salados. Los alimentos ricos en proteína, magnesio y altos en vitamina C son una buena opción.

Desinfecte las Superficies

Los aviones y trenes son un semillero de enfermedades. Los aviones son terribles debido al aire que re-circula. La mayoría de viajeros estarían horrorizados si supieran cuantos gérmenes tienen las mesitas! El Dr. Sonpal sugiere toallitas desinfectantes para la mesita de comida, el clip del cinturón de seguridad y el descanso de los asientos en aviones y trenes. Cuando vaya a un baño en un avión o tren y toque las manijas de las puertas, asegúrese de utilizar el desinfectante de manos, aunque ya se haya lavado las manos.

La Orden Ejecutiva agiliza las decisiones administrativas hechas a través de los departamentos de la Ciudad, eliminando el veto aldermánico mientras se preserva la voz aldermánica en decisiones departamentales. El proceso por el cual los residentes y el comercio busca obtener licencias, permisos y otras áreas afectadas por la Orden Ejecutiva no cambian y los concejales aún conservarán sus aportes en la entrega de servicios clave de la ciudad. En los barrios de nuestra ciudad, los Concejales están comprometidos a garantizar que nuestros residentes tienen acceso a servicios de alta calidad. La Orden Ejecutiva agilizará la entrega de servicios para que todo barrio reciba los mismos servicios de alta calidad”, dijo el Concejal Gilbert Villegas. “Trabajando juntos con la Oficina de la Alcaldesa, continuaremos asegurando que todos los niveles del gobierno responden a las necesidades de nuestros residentes y que nuestros Concejales continúan desempeñando un papel central en el desarrollo de pólizas que ayuden al crecimiento de todas nuestras comunidades”.

ComEd Icebox Derby Opens

This summer, 30 young women from the Chicago area will build both high-tech racecars and pathways to their futures in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM). Girls can apply now for the sixth-annual ComEd Icebox Derby, a competition that challenges teens from across Chicagoland to transform recycled refrigerators into electric and solar-powered racecars. Applications are available now at www.IceboxDerby.com. The application period will close on Friday, June 7. The application is open to any girl who is an Illinois resident between the ages of 13 and 18. Every participant will receive a $1,500 scholarship for completing the program. They will work alongside ComEd mentors to build a fridge car and learn about practical applications of STEM in daily life and STEM career options. The competition will culminate with a once-in-a-lifetime experience as participants race their electric- and solar-powered fridge cars at Daley Plaza in Chicago on Saturday, Aug. 3. This summer, nearly ten percent of former Icebox Derby participants will work at ComEd as summer interns. Find out more about the program by visiting www.IceboxDerby.com.
