City Signs Order to Protect Immigrant, Refugee Communities During COVID-19

By: Ashmar Mandou

On Tuesday, Mayor Lori E. Lightfoot signed an executive order guaranteeing that all benefits and services provided or administered by the City of Chicago are available to all residents, regardless of citizenship status. "This order is more than just an official decree, it is a statement of our values as a city and as Americans," said Mayor Lightfoot. "Since COVID-19 first reached our city's doorstep, we have been working around the clock to ensure all our residents are secure and supported, including our immigrant and refugee communities, who are among the most vulnerable to the impact of this pandemic. Here in

This new order will ensure that all Chicagoans have a fair advantage to access to services provided by the City to help vulnerable communities fight the COVID-19 pandemic. "Not all of Chicago's residents qualify for federal stimulus checks, state unemployment insurance or other economic assistance due to their documentation status," said 22nd Ward Alderman Michael D. Rodriguez. "These Chicagoans are vital community members who work in various industries and help our great city to thrive every day. These Chicagoans are our family members, co-workers, neighbors and friends. I applaud the Mayor for standing with undocumented individuals and families to ensure their eligibility for any economic assistance offered by the City of Chicago during this global pandemic." To address the challenges that the COVID-19 pandemic poses to Chicago's communities, including its immigrant community, the City of Chicago has implemented numerous programs to aid all residents during this extraordinarily challenging time, including:

- Establishing the COVID-19 Housing Assistance Grant program, which provides disaster relief aid for the housing costs faced by individuals and families impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic;
- Offering online Enrichment Learning Resources through Chicago Public Schools for all students at all levels, so that each student, regardless of immigration status, can continue to pursue a top-notch education; and
- Starting a $100 million

Chicago Small Business Resiliency Fund to provide small businesses with disaster relief cash flow during the COVID-19 pandemic, which is available to any entrepreneur, including immigrant business owners.

"Most individuals in our immigrant community labor in industries pummeled by the COVID-19 crisis, such as restaurants and hotels. Although many of these workers collectively pay billions of dollars in taxes, they are excluded from the federal aid package signed by Congress. We must meet this moment together; no one should be excluded," said 12th Ward Alderman George Cardenas.

Además, el café comunitario y mercado de productos frescos de La Casa Norte en colaboración con Lakeview Pantry todavía están abiertos todos los lunes y miércoles para proporcionar una comida caliente y alimentos frescos para la comunidad. El acceso a alimentos y refugios se ha limitado ya que muchas despensas de La Oficina del Censo colabora con organizaciones comunitarias y la comunidad para detener la difusión de información falsa

La Oficina del Censo de los EE. UU., está dedicando grandes recursos, energía y pasión para educar a la comunidad sobre el Censo del 2020. Unidos en dichos esfuerzos están miles de colaboradores, seguidores y grupos de interés en todo el país, incluso los gobiernos estatales, locales y tribales; escuelas; lugares de adoración; grupos religiosos y organizaciones comunitarias; negocios; y otros.

El censo decenal informa cómo cientos de miles de millones de dólares fluyen a las comunidades cada año para cosas como clínicas de salud, servicios de emergencia, transporte público, programas educativos, almuerzos escolares, escuelas y más.

El objetivo de la Oficina del Censo es asegurar que las personas respondan con confianza sabiendo que el censo es seguro e importante; pero sin conocer los hechos, algunas personas pueden dudar en responder. Esto podría afectar la precisión de los resultados. Si todas las personas obtienen información falsa sobre el Censo del 2020, intencionalmente o no, causa un problema para todos nosotros.

Desafortunadamente, muchos de los mismos canales digitales y sociales que la Oficina del Censo y los colaboradores del Censo del 2020 utilizarán para motivar a las personas a responder al censo, también se pueden usar para compartir información falsa o fraudulenta en un intento de disuadir a las personas a responder. Por eso es importante que ahora que todos están en casa, aprovechen el momento para llenar el censo por internet. Los estafadores, delincuentes, trolls de internet, oportunistas y actores maliciosos son posibles fuentes de información falsa que se espera enfrentar durante el Censo del 2020. Por esta razón, la Oficina del Censo puso en marcha el Equipo de Confianza y Seguridad para garantizar que el público reciba la información adecuada sobre cómo el Censo 2020 nos impacta a todos.

De igual manera, el Equipo de Confianza y Seguridad de la Oficina del Censo coordina e integra los esfuerzos con los sectores públicos y privados para proteger al Censo del 2020 y asegurar que la información que reciben sobre el Censo del 2020 sea objetiva y precisa.

Aprovechando las mejores prácticas de los sectores públicos y privados, el Equipo de Confianza y Seguridad monitorea todos los canales disponibles y las plataformas abiertas en busca de información falsa y fraudulenta sobre el censo. Esto también incluye información sobre el coronavirus (COVID-19). El monitoreo de los medios tradicionales, las redes sociales y otras comunicaciones con los grupos de interés, les permite responder rápidamente para combatir las amenazas potenciales y lograr un conteo preciso.

El Equipo de Confianza y Seguridad se lanzó durante el verano antes de la primera operación de campo importante para el Censo del 2020. Hoy, está compuesto por más de una docena de expertos en comunicaciones y redes sociales bajo el liderazgo ejecutivo de altos funcionarios de carrera. Sin embargo, el esfuerzo es de todos y las personas deben estar atentas en la lucha contra la información falsa, fraudulenta y los rumores problemáticos sobre el Censo del 2020. Si usted ve algún mensaje, publicación en las redes sociales o páginas de internet que cree que contienen información falsa o fraudulenta sobre el Censo del 2020 favor de mandar un correo electrónico a rumors@census.gov.

La Ciudad Firma una Orden para Proteger a las Comunidades de Inmigrantes y Refugiados Durante COVID-19

Por: Ashmar Mandou

El martes, el alcalde Lori E. Lightfoot firmó una orden ejecutiva que garantiza que todos los beneficios y servicios proporcionados o administrados por la ciudad de Chicago están disponibles para todos los residentes, independientemente de su condición de ciudadanía. "Esta orden es más que un simple decreto oficial, es una declaración de nuestros valores como ciudad y como estadounidenses", dijo el alcalde Lightfoot. "Desde que COVID-19 llegó por primera vez a la puerta de nuestra ciudad, hemos estado trabajando las 24 horas para garantizar que todos nuestros residentes estén seguros y apoyados, incluidas nuestras comunidades de inmigrantes y refugiados, que se encuentran entre las más vulnerables al impacto de esta pandemia. Aquí en Chicago, decir "estamos todos juntos en esto" significa que durante esta crisis, nadie se queda afuera y nadie se queda atrás ". Este nuevo orden asegurará que todos los habitantes de Chicago tengan una ventaja justa para acceder a los servicios provistos por la Ciudad para ayudar a las comunidades vulnerables a combatir la pandemia de COVID-19. "No todos los residentes de Chicago califican para cheques de estímulo federal, seguro de desempleo estatal u otra asistencia económica debido a su estado de documentación", dijo el concejal de distrito 22 Michael D. Rodriguez. "Estos habitantes de Chicago son miembros vitales de la comunidad que trabajan en diversas industrias y ayudan a nuestra gran ciudad a prosperar todos los días. Estos habitantes de Chicago son nuestros familiares, compañeros de trabajo, vecinos y amigos. Aplaudo al Alcalde por apoyar a las personas y familias indocumentadas para asegurar su elegibilidad para cualquier asistencia económica ofrecida por la Ciudad de Chicago durante esta pandemia global ".

Para abordar los desafíos que la pandemia de COVID-19 plantea a las comunidades de Chicago, incluida su comunidad de inmigrantes, la Ciudad de Chicago ha implementado numerosos programas para ayudar a todos los residentes durante este tiempo extraordinariamente desafiante, que incluye:

- Establecer el programa COVID-19 Housing Assistance Grant, que proporciona ayuda de ayuda por desastre para los costos de vivienda que enfrentan las personas y familias afectadas por la pandemia COVID-19;

- Ofrecer recursos de aprendizaje de enriquecimiento en línea a través de las Escuelas Públicas de Chicago para todos los estudiantes en todos los niveles, de modo que cada estudiante, independientemente de su estado migratorio, pueda

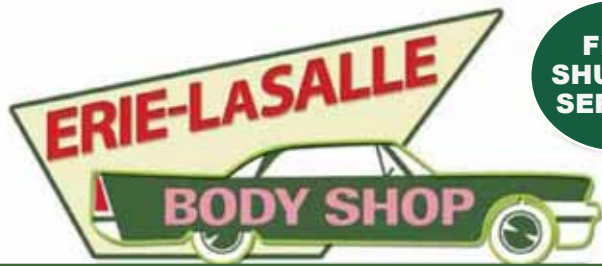

continuar buscando una educación de primer nivel; y

- Comenzar un Fondo de Resiliencia para Pequeñas Empresas de Chicago de $ 100 millones para proporcionar a las pequeñas empresas un flujo de efectivo en caso de desastres durante la pandemia COVID-19, que está disponible para cualquier empresario, incluidos los propietarios de negocios inmigrantes.

"La mayoría de las personas en nuestra comunidad inmigrante trabajan en industrias golpeadas por la crisis de COVID-19, como restaurantes y hoteles. Aunque muchos de estos trabajadores colectivamente pagan miles de millones de dólares en impuestos, están excluidos del paquete de ayuda federal firmado por el Congreso. Debemos encontrarnos en este momento juntos; nadie debe ser excluido ", dijo el concejal del 12º Distrito George Cardenas.

COVID-19 Impacts Raymundo's Workers and the Company Fails to Act

Last Friday, workers from Raymundo's Food Group, in Bedford Park, IL, refused to work after learning that a coworker had tested positive for COVID-19. Workers also reported that the company has a history of forcing workers to remain on the job while sick. With additional coworkers also exhibiting Coronavirus symptoms, Raymundo's workers no longer feel safe and are compelled to inform the public about this dangerous situation. The workers report that the company knew the worker was infected, but did nothing. Despite publicly available guidelines, CDC recommendation, and health officials' insistence on the importance of social distancing, the company has yet to implement meaningful social distancing policies and protect its workers. In November 2019, the Raymundo's workers held an election and voted to Unionize. In response the company appealed the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) decision to certify Local 881 United Food and Commercial Workers (UFCW) and has unlawfully refused to bargain. As the certified representative of the workers at Raymundo's, Local 881 UFCW demands that Raymundo's immediately shut down and hire a professional cleaning organization to fully sanitize its facility.

The Raymundo's employees are deemed essential workers during the Coronavirus pandemic.

Therefore, on Thursday, Local 881 UFCW demanded Raymundo's give workers hazard pay of an extra $2.00 per hour and provide a safe environment for its workers during this pandemic and into the future. The company has failed to act.

- 2 When Shopping for Groceries, send only one person to the store. Minimize the number of people going outside. Do not take your children.
- 3 Keep your Social Distancing. Stay at least 6 Feet Apart.
- 4 Assume COVID-19 is everywhere. Don't take chances.
- 5 Obey the Stay-at-Home order from the Governor. Only go outside when it is essential.

- 7 If you develop emergency warning signs such as difficulty breathing or shortness of breath, persistent pain, or pressure in chest, new confusion or difficulty awakening a person, bluish lips or face, CALL 911.
 - If you have flu symptoms, or have mild symptoms, a slight fever, isolate yourself. If you don't improve in 3 to 4 days, call your doctor. (You can also contact the Cicero Health Department 708-656-3600 Ext. 147)
 - High risk individuals - people with major health issues such as diabetes, asthma, or other conditions, should call your physician immediately
