Fun Abounds at Senior Hearts, Shamrocks Dance

If there is one event that marks the end of winter and the start of spring in Cicero, it is the Senior Hearts and Shamrocks dinner and dance.

As in years past, this year's celebration drew hundreds of senior residents who enjoyed the entertainment, music, dancing, and food. Last month's event was sponsored by Town President Larry Dominick and the Town Board of Trustees, in coordination with Senior Activities. This year's dinner and dance featured Rosie and the Rivets playing hits from the 50s and 60s. At the same time, residents enjoyed a warm meal served by volunteers from Morton High School District 201 and the town. Residents showed up in the dual holiday spirit, with many wearing red outfits while adorning green hats. The Hearts and Shamrocks event is one of several programs the town hosts throughout the year.

La Ciudad de Chicago Cancela los Desfiles del Día de San Patricio

Por: Ashmar Mandou

Funcionarios de la Ciudad y el Estado se unieron al Departamento de Salud Pública (CDPH) y a la Oficina de Gestión de Emergencias y Comunicaciones (OEMC) el miércoles, para anunciar que la Ciudad pospondrá los desfiles del fin de semana del Día de San Patricio como medida precautoria para prevenir un mayor contagio del Coronavirus 2019 (COVID-19). La Ciudad continuará trabajando con los organizadores de los desfiles del centro de la ciudad, el sector sur y el sector noroeste, así como el teñir de verde el Río Chicago, para reprogramar estos eventos a una fecha posterior y garantizar la salud y seguridad de los residentes y visitantes de Chicago.

“La salud y la seguridad de los residentes de Chicago será siempre nuestra mayor prioridad y como muchas otras ciudades de la nación y el mundo, estamos posponiendo el desfile de este año como medida precautoria para evitar cualquier contagio adicional de COVID-19”, dijo la Alcaldesa Lightfoot. “Quiero que todos tengan la seguridad de que su ciudad y el estado continúan trabajando las 24 horas para mantenerse a la vanguardia de este problema y garantizar que todos permanezcan protegidos, informados y seguros “.

La decisión de posponer el desfile oficial del Día de San Patricio sigue la guía e información de expertos de salud pública, incluyendo los Centros para el Control y la Prevención de Enfermedades (CDC), y homólogos en otras jurisdicciones que experimentan un impacto similar del COVID-19.

“Todos sabemos que las celebraciones del Día de San Patricio significan mucho para nosotros en la ciudad de Chicago – pero como líderes electos, no podemos arriesgar la salud de nuestros residentes, dijo el Gobernador JB Pritzker. “Como hemos visto a nivel nacional y en todo el mundo el aumento en el riesgo de

What You Need to Know About 2020 Census

By: Ashmar Mandou

The first documents of the 2020 Census will start hitting mailboxes this week. In anticipation of the form, we have gathered up general questions most people have in regards to the Census. Take a look at what you need to know. So what is the census?

Article 1, section 2 of the Constitution requires the federal government to count every person living in the country every 10 years and use the information to divvy up representation in Congress. The census is that count, and it happens at the start of each new decade.

How does it work?

The government is hoping you save it (i.e. taxpayers) money by filling it out online at <https://my2020census.gov/>. Since that the cheapest and fastest way to participate, officials hope most people opt for it.

Wait, I can do it online?

Yes. Starting March 12, the census can be completed online for the first time. Every home will get a postcard with an identification number and instructions about whether they should fill the census out online, by phone or by mail. But you have to wait until you get a postcard, which should be arriving by March 20.

Isn't it illegal to ask about race and ethnicity? Can I decline to answer?

No, it's been on the form a long time, and it has a purpose. The census has asked people whether they are of Hispanic origin, and which broad Hispanic group they identify with, since 1970. The census has collected racial data since 1790. The 2020 census gives people 15 racial categories and a write-in option. It also allows you to select more than one race. This information is used to enforce rules against race-based discrimination and determine how many people are eligible for programs.

Will they ask about the citizenship of people living in the house?

No, and this was a big legal fight last year. The Trump administration tried to add a citizenship question to the census, but critics sued to block it. Census experts warned that asking about citizenship might discourage immigrant households from participating, leading to an undercount in states like California with large immigrant populations.

How is my information used?

The census results are used for reapportionment, which is the term for redrawing legislative and congressional districts so every district represents about the same number of people in the state Legislature or Congress. Local governments also use the data to decide things like where schools, fire stations and new roads should be built, and even small but important things, like where stop signs and fire hydrants are placed.

Lo Que Necesitas Saber Sobre el Censo del 2020

Por: Ashmar Mandou

Los primeros documentos del Censo del 2020 empezarán a llegar a los buzones esta semana. En anticipación de esto hemos reunidos preguntas generales que la mayoría de la gente tiene sobre el Censo. A continuación lo que necesita saber.

¿Qué es el censo?

El Artículo 1, sección 2 de la constitución requiere que el gobierno federal cuente cada persona que vive en el país cada 10 años y utilice la información para repartir la representación en el Congreso. El censo es ese conteo y ocurre al principio de cada nueva década.

¿Cómo funciona?

El gobierno espera ahorrar

dinero (e.j. contribuyentes) completándolo en línea en <https://my2020census.gov/>. Puesto que es la forma más rápida y más barata de participar, los funcionarios esperan que la mayoría de la gente escoja esta opción.

Entonces, ¿Puedo hacerlo en línea?

Si, a partir del 12 de marzo, el censo puede ser completado en línea por primera vez. Cada casa recibirá una tarjeta con un número de identificación e instrucciones sobre si deben llenar el censo en línea, por teléfono o por correo. Pero tienes que esperar a recibir una postal, que debe llegar por el 20 de marzo.

of Chicago's residents will always be our highest priority and like many other cities across the nation and globe, we are postponing this year's parade as a precautionary measure to prevent any additional spread of COVID-19," said Mayor Lightfoot. "I want everyone to rest assured that your City and State continue to work around the clock to stay ahead of this issue and ensure everyone remains protected, informed, and safe."

The decision to postpone the official St. Patrick's Day parade follows guidance and information from public health experts, including the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and counterparts in other jurisdictions experiencing similar impacts from COVID-19.

"We all know what the St. Patrick's Day celebrations mean to us in the city of Chicago — but as elected leaders, we can't take any chances with the health of our residents," said Governor JB Pritzker. "Because of what we've seen nationally and across the world of the increased risk of large gatherings, this was the right call and I thank Mayor Lightfoot for her leadership in this difficult situation." For anyone celebrating St.

Patrick Day this weekend, the City's public health officials recommend practicing common sense health safety tips and social distancing, including:

- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces. At this time, no special sanitizing processes beyond routine cleaning are necessary or recommended to slow the spread of respiratory illness.

"Protecting the health and wellness of both Chicago's residents and visitors is our top priority as we continue to learn more about the nature of COVID-19," said Dr. Allison Arwady, M.D., Commissioner of CDPH. More information and updates on COVID-19 can be found on the IDPH website, the CDPH website, and the CDC website. You can also contact the Chicago Department of Public Health at coronavirus@chicago.gov.

¿No es ilegal preguntar sobre la raza y la etnicidad? ¿Puedo negarme a responder?

No, ha estado en la forma desde hace mucho tiempo y tiene un propósito. El censo ha preguntado a la gente si es de origen hispano y con que grupo hispano se identifica, desde 1970. El censo ha recolectado datos raciales desde 1790. El censo del 2020 da a la gente 15 categorías raciales y una opción para contestar. También te permite seleccionar más de una raza. Esta información se utiliza para hacer cumplir las reglas contra la discriminación basada en la raza y determinar cuántas personas son elegibles para los programas.

¿Van a preguntar sobre la ciudadanía de la gente que vive en la casa?

No, y esto fue una gran lucha legal el año pasado.

La administración Trump trató de agregar una pregunta sobre la ciudadanía en el censo, pero las críticas demandaron bloquearlo. Los expertos del censo advierten que preguntar sobre la ciudadanía puede hacer que las familias emigrantes se nieguen a participar, provocando un bajo conteo en estados como California con grandes poblaciones inmigrantes.

¿Cómo van a utilizar mi información?

Los resultados del censo son utilizados para la redistribución, que es el término que se usa para volver a delinear distritos legislativos y del Congreso para que cada distrito represente aproximadamente el mismo número de personas en la Legislatura o el Congreso del estado. Los gobiernos locales también utilizan los datos para decidir donde deben construirse nuevas escuelas, estaciones de bomberos y carreteras e inclusive cosas pequeñas, pero importantes, como donde deben colocarse señales de alto e hidrantes.

Clarity Clinic: Miedo al Coronavirus y qué Hacer para Calmarlo

Según el coronavirus continúa extendiéndose por todo el mundo, de la misma forma crece el miedo. Aquí en Estados Unidos la gente se apresura a comprar suministros. Mascarillas, desinfectante de manos, artículos de tocados y productos de limpieza están empezando a escasear. Algunas tiendas están ahora limitando las compras a atender la demanda y mantener los precios a raya. Comparado con los casos vistos en otros países, aquí en E.U. el coronavirus apenas comienza a surgir, reclamando sus primeras muertes en el estado de Washington. Illinois vio su primer caso el mes pasado y con el número de contagios aumentando, el miedo empieza a apoderarse de algunos.

“Algunas veces nuestro pensamiento se sale de cauce, especialmente cuando hablamos de ansiedad. Podemos pensar que algo malo va a sucedernos y podemos imaginarnos el peor de los escenarios. Sin embargo, debemos tener en cuenta que típicamente, el peor escenario que nuestra mente crea no necesariamente ocurre. Nuestra mente desarrolla pensamientos que nos protegen; pero algunas veces necesitamos darnos cuenta de la realidad de la situación y como manejar estos pensamientos adecuadamente”, dice el Dr. Casey Noreika de Clarity Clinic en Chicago.

Entonces, ¿qué hay detrás de este miedo? Se llama ansiedad situacional. Es una nerviosidad general, temor o preocupación sobre una situación o un evento transitorio. Por ejemplo, uno puede sentirse ansioso o nervioso si tiene que dar un discurso frente a un numeroso grupo de gente. Sin embargo, esta nerviosidad no dura mucho y usualmente se disipa después de terminar el evento. ¿Qué podemos hacer para manejar nuestros temores? hacer respiraciones profundas y participar en actividades divertidas ayuda. También usar un diálogo interno positivo, tomar las precauciones apropiadas y fijar límites saludables, así como tomar medidas de seguridad. No olvide lavarse las manos, cubrirse la boca, mantener un desinfectante de manos con usted y quedarse en casa si se siente enfermo.

Clarity Clinic: Coronavirus Fears and What You Can Do to Calm Them

As the coronavirus continues to spread throughout the world, so does the fear. Here in the United States, people are rushing to buy supplies. Face masks, hand sanitizer, toiletries and cleaning products are starting to dwindle from store shelves. Some retailers are now limiting purchasing power to meet demand and to keep price gouging at bay. Compared to the cases seen overseas, here in the U.S., the coronavirus is just beginning to emerge, claiming its' first deaths in Washington state. Illinois saw its' first case last month and with numbers rising, thoughts of fear may be starting to creep in for some. “Sometimes our thoughts get away from us, especially when speaking of an anxiety. We may think something bad will happen to us or may even think of the worst-case scenarios. However, we must be mindful that typically the worst-case scenarios our mind tells us are not necessarily true. Our mind develops thoughts to protect us; but sometimes we need to realize the reality of the situation and how to adequately manage our thoughts around it,” says Dr. Casey Noreika of Clarity Clinic in Chicago. So, what is behind this fear? It's called situational anxiety. It is a general nervousness, concern or worry regarding a situational, or transient event. For example, one might become anxious or nervous if they have an upcoming speech to give in front of a large group of people.

However, this nervous feeling doesn't last long and usually dissipates after the conclusion of the event. What can we do to manage our fears? Taking deep breaths and engaging in enjoyable activities help keep thoughts at bay. Also using positive self-talk, taking appropriate precautions and forming healthy boundaries as well as safety measures. Don't forget to wash your hands, cover your mouth, keep hand sanitizer with you, and stay home if you are feeling sick.
