Pandemic Causing Rise in Opioid Overdose

By: Ashmar Mandou

According to a health alert issued by the Chicago Department of Public Health earlier this month, there is a significant rise in opioid deaths compared to last year. The alert states there have been over 400 opioid-related deaths in Chicago, compared to just over 300 in January to May of last year. In May 2020 alone, there were 86 opioid-related deaths in Chicago, of which 18.6 percent identified as Latino, compared to only two deaths last month. These alarming numbers prompted Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle, Cook County Chief Medical Examiner Dr. Ponni Arunkumar, and physicians from Cook County Health to address the increase in opioid overdose deaths. “This year continues to showcase the dangerous consequences we face as a result of decades – centuries – of racial inequities,” said Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle. “While much of this year has been consumed by our fight to contain COVID-19, which has disproportionately impacted our communities of color, we’ve had to contend with skyrocketing homicide rates which almost universally took the lives of Black and Brown people and we must face the devastating toll the opioid crisis is taking on our community as well.” Last year, the Cook County Medical Examiner’s Office confirmed 605 opioid overdose deaths between January 1 and July 13. This year, that number stands at 773. But that only tells part of the story. The Office is still awaiting results of 580 pending cases. According to Chief Medical Examiner Dr. Ponni Arunkumar, 70 – 80 percent of those cases will be confirmed as opioid overdoses. This means that there are already approximately 1,200 opioid toxicity deaths in Cook County this year. In 2019, the Medical Examiner’s Office confirmed a total of 1,267 opioid overdose deaths. In 2018, the Office confirmed 1,148. The victims are overwhelmingly people of color. Of the 773 cases confirmed this year, 63 percent are Black or Latino. Forty-five to 54-year-olds are most likely to succumb to an opioid overdose, and 55- to 64-year-olds are second most likely to die from an opioid overdose. These age groups have consistently been the most vulnerable to opioid deaths over the past few years. “Our Office is used to dealing with death, but we will never get used to the tragedy that each death represents,” said Arunkumar. “While we concentrate on our mission to establish the cause and manner of death for the cases that fall under our jurisdiction, we do not accept that they had to occur. These deaths are preventable, and we have a responsibility to do all we can to stop as many as we can.” One program that has gotten a more than 20 percent increase in participation is the medication assisted treatment program (MAT) at Cook County Health. MAT is a combination of FDA-approved medication and behavioral health support and considered the gold standard approach to substance use disorders treatment according to Dr. Juleigh Nowinski Konchak, MAT physician lead at Cook County Health. She says Cook County Health has adapted how it is caring for patients with substance abuse disorders during the pandemic.

El Aumento de la Pandemia en la Sobredosis de Opioides

Por Ashmar Mandou

Según una alerta de salud emitida por el Departamento de Salud Pública de Chicago a principios de este mes, hay un aumento significativo en las muertes por opioides en comparación con el año pasado. La alerta indica que ha habido más de 400 muertes relacionadas con los opioides en Chicago, en comparación con poco más de 300 en enero a mayo del año pasado. Solo en mayo de 2020, hubo 86 muertes relacionadas con opioides en Chicago, de las cuales el 18,6 por ciento se identificó como latino, en comparación con solo dos muertes el mes pasado. Estos números alarmantes llevaron al presidente de la Junta del Condado de Cook, Toni Preckwinkle, al médico forense jefe del condado de Cook,

Dr. Ponni Arunkumar, y a médicos del Departamento de Salud del Condado de Cook a abordar el aumento de las muertes por sobredosis de opioides. "Este año continúa mostrando las peligrosas consecuencias que enfrentamos como resultado de décadas, siglos, de inequidades raciales", dijo el presidente de la Junta del Condado de Cook, Toni Preckwinkle. "Si bien gran parte de este año ha sido consumido por nuestra lucha por contener COVID-19, que ha impactado desproporcionadamente a nuestras comunidades de color, hemos tenido que lidiar con tasas

de homicidios que se dispararon casi universalmente y quitaron la vida a las personas negras y de otras razas y nosotros debemos enfrentar el costo devastador que la crisis de los opioides también está afectando a nuestra comunidad".

El año pasado, la Oficina del médico forense del condado de Cook confirmó 605 muertes por sobredosis de opioides entre el 1 de enero y el 13 de julio. Este año, ese número es de 773. Pero eso solo cuenta una parte de la historia. La Oficina aún espera los resultados de 580 casos pendientes. Según el médico forense jefe, el Dr. Ponni Arunkumar, entre el 70 y el 80 por ciento de esos casos se confirmarán como sobredosis de opioides. Esto significa que este año ya hay aproximadamente 1,200 muertes por toxicidad por opioides en el Condado de Cook. En 2019, la Oficina del médico forense confirmó un total de 1,267 muertes por sobredosis de opioides. En 2018, la Oficina confirmó 1.148. Las víctimas son abrumadoramente personas de color. De los 773 casos confirmados este año, el 63 por ciento son negros o latinos. Las personas de cuarenta y cinco a 54 años tienen más probabilidades de sucumbir a una sobredosis de opioides, y las de 55 a 64 años tienen la segunda probabilidad de morir por una sobredosis de opioides. Estos grupos de edad han sido consistentemente los más vulnerables a las muertes por opioides en los últimos años. "Nuestra oficina está acostumbrada a lidiar con la muerte, pero nunca nos acostumbraremos a la tragedia que representa cada muerte", dijo Arunkumar. "Mientras nos concentramos en nuestra misión de establecer la causa y la forma de la muerte para los casos que están bajo nuestra jurisdicción, no aceptamos que tuvieran que ocurrir. Estas muertes son prevenibles, y tenemos la responsabilidad de hacer todo lo posible para detener la mayor cantidad posible

Un programa que ha obtenido un aumento de más del 20 por ciento en la participación es el programa de tratamiento asistido con medicamentos (MAT) en Cook County Health. MAT es una combinación de medicamentos aprobados por la FDA y apoyo a la salud del comportamiento y se considera el enfoque estándar de oro para el tratamiento de los trastornos por uso de sustancias, según la Dra. Juleigh Nowinski Konchak, líder médico de MAT en Cook County Health. Ella dice que Cook County Health ha adaptado la forma en que atiende a los pacientes con trastornos por abuso de sustancias durante la pandemia.

Completing the Census is a Social Justice Issue

A survey recording a household's likelihood to complete the census conducted by the U.S Census Bureau in 2018 reported that nearly a quarter of Americans said they would not complete the census due to concerns over a lack of data privacy and mistrust in the government. The majority of these respondents identified with one or more of what the Bureau is calling "Hard to Count Communities". These communities include individuals with limited education, limited English, limited income, and/or unstable housing and are often located in underfunded areas. These are the very groups that the Census was created to support, and, without a complete count, they are at risk to lose crucial funding for community services. And to make matters worse, these groups will be relegated to the shadows for another 10 years. Anti-immigration messaging and reduced Census funding from the current federal administration has contributed to the idea that Census data can be used in ways that could be harmful to individuals and families. This is particularly frightening to our undocumented neighbors. Community leaders have been working to alleviate this misinformation, but people are still confused about whether or not a question about citizenship status will be on the Census. Just for the record, it's not. The Census is mandated by the Constitution, stating that every person living in the United States be counted every 10 years. Cook County is reporting a 61.5 percent response rate as of July 10, but that still leaves nearly 40 percent of our neighbors uncoun- The Census determines how much a community is granted in funding for the next 10 years. That means funding for schools, school lunches, hospitals, and emergency services.

The count is low in the neighborhoods that need this the most - which means funding will be low. If we do not work to get everyone counted, these communities will continue to go underfunded for another decade. By completing the Census, you are using your voice to create change. By telling your neighbors to complete the Census, you are standing up for your community. It takes five minutes to complete and it makes an immeasurable difference. You matter. You are here. Your existence in our community is valued and it should be counted. Complete your Census and then tell someone else to complete theirs and repeat that until we have everyone in.

Mensaje a las Familias Inmigrantes Durante la Pandemia por COVID-19

COVID-19 ha golpeado a las comunidades “de color” con más fuerza, incluyendo a las familias inmigrantes. Usted debe conocer los programas a los que puede acceder en este momento, incluyendo atención médica, asistencia de dinero en efectivo, asistencia para obtener alimentos y seguro de desempleo.

1) Los oficiales de inmigración aclararon que, en relación a COVID-19, toda persona puede hacerse pruebas, recibir atención de prevención y recibir tratamiento para combatir el COVID-19 sin temor a consecuencias debido a su estado migratorio.

2) Usted puede ver a un médico aunque no tenga seguro médico. Si no tiene un doctor, llame a un centro de salud de la comunidad local para obtener ayuda. Encuentre un doctor en:

<https://findahealthcenter.hrsa.gov>

3) Si todos los miembros de su unidad familiar tienen un número de seguro social y usted gana menos de $75,000 por año, podría ser elegible para un pago único en efectivo de $1,200 por adulto y $500 por niño/a.

4) La Ley CARES amplía el seguro de desempleo para incluir a los contratistas independientes y para que dure más tiempo, pero de todos modos necesita tener permiso para trabajar en los Estados Unidos.

5) El P-EBT (siglas en inglés de “Pandemic EBT”) es un nuevo programa de Transferencia Electrónica de Beneficios de asistencia nutricional (por la pandemia) que permite a los Estados brindar beneficios de ayuda para alimentos por alrededor de $114 por niño/a, cada mes, para las familias que han perdido el acceso a las comidas escolares gratis o de precio reducido. Está disponible ahora en más de 40 estados para cualquier persona elegible, sin importar su estado migratorio.

6) Si recibe el pago de estímulo económico (stimulus payment), seguro de desempleo, pruebas y tratamientos para COVID-19, o el P-EBT (“Pandemic EBT”), ello no será usado en su contra en caso que se deba determinar si se considera “carga pública”. Eso significa que aplicar para estos programas no impactará negativamente su capacidad de obtener la residencia legal en el futuro.

Para ver una guía de referencia rápida sobre quienes son elegibles para los programas públicos federales durante la crisis de salud pública por COVID-19, visite: www.protectingimmigrantfamilies.org. También puede haber ayuda estatal o local para usted y su familia.
