Lolla is Back: What to Know

By: Ashmar Mandou

Lollapalooza is back! From July 29th through August 1st, Grant Park will transform into a music lover's paradise as acts, such as Post Malone, Megan Thee Stallion, and Miley Cyrus take the stage to serenade the crowd. However, health experts are warning concert-goers that extra COVID-related protocols will be in place to keep attendees safe. According to the Chicago Public Health Department, to attend the festival, you need to either show proof of COVID-19 vaccination or a negative COVID test taken within 72 hours of the day you're heading inside. Unvaccinated visitors traveling to Chicago from the now 14 states and one territory on the list are asked to get a negative COVID test result within 72 hours or quarantine for 10 days when they arrive. In addition, the Better Business Bureau (BBB) warns attendees that as fake tickets, fake ticket sellers are main sources of scams, fake vaccination cards are also a cause for concern this year. "Just like finding tickets, there are countless ways for consumers to find vaccination cards online, with online marketplaces, ticket sellers, resellers, and the like, and unfortunately, some of them are rip-offs," says Steve Bernas, president and CEO of BBB. "This scam is especially dangerous because fake tests and vaccine cards not only put people at a health risk, but buying and selling illegal cards is a crime," says Bernas. He added that the FBI is investigating buyers and sellers. Violators can be arrested." BBB is warning consumers to be smart when searching for and purchasing tickets to ensure they are buying from a trustworthy source.

Here are some tips, whether you are looking for tickets for a concert or any other event:

- Know that buying tickets from unknown sources is like buying tickets in a dark alley. Fake tickets, especially for sought-after events, have become common.

Lolla Regresa: Que Debemos Saber

Por: Ashmar Mandou

¡Lollapalooza Regresa! Del 29 de julio al 1º de agosto el Grant Park se convierte en un paraíso para los amantes de la música, ya que personajes como Post Malone, Meg the Stallion, y Miley Cyrus toman el estrado para alegrar a la multitud. Sin embargo, expertos en salud advierten que los asistentes al concierto deben seguir protocolos extra relacionados con el COVID para que los asistentes estén seguros. De acuerdo con el Departamento de Salud Pública, para asistir al festival, se necesita mostrar prueba de la vacuna del COVID-19 o una prueba negativa del COVID tomada 72 horas antes del día en que piense asistir. A los visitantes no vacunados que viajan a Chicago desde los ahora 14 estados y un territorio en la lista, se les pide que obtengan un resultado negativo de la prueba COVID dentro de las 72 horas o que se pongan en cuarentena durante 10 días cuando lleguen.

Además, Better Business Bureau (BBB) advierte a los asistentes que los boletos falsos y los vendedores de boletos falsos son la fuente principal de estafas. Las tarjetas falsas de vacunas son también causa de preocupación este año. "Así como se encuentran boletos, hay incontables formas de que los consumidores encuentren tarjetas de vacunas en línea, con mercados en línea, vendedores de boletos, revendedores y demás y desafortunadamente, muchos de ellos son estafas", dice Steve Bernas, presidente y CEO de BBB. "Esta estafa es especialmente peligrosa porque las tarjetas y pruebas de vacunas falsas no solo ponen a la gente en peligro de salud, sino que comprar y vender tarjetas ilegales es un crimen", dice Bernas. Agregó que el FBI está investigando compradores y vendedores. Los violadores pueden ser arrestados". BBB advierte a los consumidores que tengan cuidado cuando busquen y compren boletos, para estar seguros de que los compran de una fuente confiable. A continuación algunos consejos por si busca comprar boletos para un concierto o cualquier otro evento:

- Sepa que comprar boletos de fuentes desconocidas es como comprar boletos en un callejón oscuro. Los boletos falsos, especialmente para eventos muy solicitados, se han vuelto cosa común.
- Compre en el lugar mismo. Siempre que sea posible, utilice el agente de venta de entradas oficial del lugar o visite la taquilla directamente.
- Conozca la póliza de reembolso. Uno debe comprar boletos de un revendedor de boletos que ofrece detalles claros sobre los términos de la transacción. Los vendedores deben informar al comprador, antes de la compra, de la ubicación exacta de los asientos representados por las entradas. Sepa qué sucede cuando los conciertos se cancelan o cambian las fechas.

- Utilice métodos de pago que vienen con protección. Siempre utilice una tarjeta de crédito para que cuente con algún recurso si los boletos no son como los prometieron. Las tarjetas de débito, transferencias o transacciones en dinero en efectivo son riesgosas; si los boletos son fraudulentos no podrá recuperar su dinero.

Illinoians Highly Targeted by Scammers for ID Thefts

Imposter and phishing scams continue to sweep many government departments in the state. Scammers are using text messages, emails, and phone calls in their schemes to rip off consumers. Because of delays caused by the pandemic, Illinois residents are in some cases waiting in long lines to renew their driver's license and state ID.

"Scammers follow the news and see situations that negatively impact people as an opportunity to take advantage of them," says Steve Bernas, president, and CEO of the Better Business Bureau serving Chicago and Northern Illinois. In one of the phishing schemes, scammers are sending text messages claiming to be from the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT). The message reads... Illinois Department of Transportation Driver License Waiver Validation. Validate your details below. "This is classic identity theft, notes Bernas. The text requires you to provide your driver's license number, date of birth, and Social Security number," says Bernas. "This is easily identifiable as a scam because driver's licenses are issued by the Secretary of State's Office, not by IDOT." To avoid becoming a victim of identity theft:

- Delete emails and texts that promise or offer access to driver's licenses or state

ID cards, and do not click on any links in the emails or text messages.

- Consider freezing your credit for more protection if you are not currently seeking any type of loan. This protects you and you can unfreeze your credit any time you like.

- Hang up on any calls, including robocalls, which ask you to take immediate action or provide personal information.

- Ask to use other identifiers besides your Social Security number if it is requested.

- Keep computer software and virus protection up to date.

Report scam activity whether you have fallen victim or not to the BBB Scam Tracker at BBB.org.

25 Men Arrested in Cook County Sheriff's Police "John" Sting Targeting Sex Buyers

Officers from the Cook County Sheriff's Police Special Victims Unit issued citations to 25 men and towed 21 vehicles as part of an undercover operation targeting individuals seeking to buy sex, Cook County Sheriff Thomas J. Dart announced. On Thursday, July 22, SVU officers set up a sting operation in an area of Leyden Township frequented by individuals seeking to purchase sex. Over the course of the operation, 25 men approached members of the team and solicited sex in exchange for money. Each man was issued a $1,000 citation for violation of the Cook County public morals nuisance ordinance, and 21 vehicles were towed under the ordinance, requiring the vehicle owner to pay $500 to reclaim possession. Sheriff's Police aggressively pursue those who contribute to sex trafficking and offer services and support to individuals who are trapped in it.

New Laws Underway for Special Needs Students

By: Ashmar Mandou

Governor JB Pritzker signed HB 40 and HB 2748 into law on Tuesday, which will allow special education students to continue attending school through the end of the school year in which they turn 22. The package also allows special needs students who recently turned 22 and were impacted by COVID-19 to remain eligible for educational services up to the end of the regular 2021-2022 school year.

"I strongly believe that a core principle of governance is ensuring that our laws are kind to the people they are meant to serve. And there's nothing kind about taking a student with disabilities out of the classroom on October 16th, or January 5th, or April 19th, just because they turned another day older," said Governor JB Pritzker. "It doesn't happen to general education students, and it shouldn't happen to our students with special needs either. In Illinois, it will never happen again. We all have something to celebrate today."

"We are righting a long-standing wrong by allowing special education students to finish out their final year of school," said State Senator Bill Cunningham, a Democrat who represents portions of Chicago and the southwest suburbs. "Starting this year, they will get to graduate with their classmates and say proper goodbyes to their friends and teachers."

House Bill 40 will allow special education students to continue attending school through the end of the school year in which they turn 22, rather than leave school the day they turn 22. Under prior law, special education students aged out of eligibility on the day they turn 22, losing access to vital support services. The legislation will allow students with disabilities to finish the school year and celebrate the well-deserved milestone of high school completion in the same way as their peers.

House Bill 2748 will allow special education students to remain eligible for services up to the end of the regular 2021-2022 school year if a student reached the age of 22 during the time in which the student's in-person instruction, services, or activities were suspended for a period of 3 months or more during the school year as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. HB 40 and HB 2748 are effective immediately.

Nuevas Leyes en Curso para Estudiantes con Necesidades Especiales

Por Ashmar Mandou

El Gobernador JB Pritzker convirtió la HB 40 y la HB 2748 en ley el martes, lo que permite que los estudiantes de educación especial continúen asistiendo a la escuela hasta finales del año escolar en el que cumplen 22 años. El paquete permite también a los estudiantes de necesidades especiales que actualmente cumplieron 22 años y fueron impactados por el COVID-19, que sigan elegibles para servicios especiales hasta finales del año escolar regular 2021-2022.

"Creo firmemente que un principio central de gobierno es garantizar que nuestras leyes son amables con la gente que deben servir. no hay nada amable en sacar a un estudiante con discapacidades del salón de clases el 16 de octubre o el 5 de enero o el 19 de abril, solo porque cumplieron un día más de vida", dijo el Gobernador JB Pritzker." Esto no pasa con estudiantes de educación general y tampoco debería pasar con nuestros estudiantes de necesidades especiales. En Illinois no volverá a suceder. Hoy tenemos algo que celebrar".

"Estamos corrigiendo un error de larga data al permitir que los estudiantes de educación especial terminen su último año de escuela", dijo el Senador Estatal Bill Cunningham, Demócrata que representa partes de Chicago y los suburbios del sudoeste. "A partir de este año se graduarán con sus compañeros y se despedirán apropiadamente de sus amigos y maestros".

El Proyecto 40 de la Cámara permitirá que los estudiantes de educación especial continúen asistiendo a la escuela hasta finales del año escolar en el que cumplen 22 años, en vez de salir de la escuela el día que cumplen los 22. Bajo la ley anterior, los estudiantes de educación especial quedaban fuera de elegibilidad el día que cumplían 22 años, perdiendo acceso a servicios de apoyo vitales. La legislación permitirá a los estudiantes con discapacidades terminar el año escolar y celebrar el bien merecido triunfo de completar la secundaria de la misma forma que sus compañeros.

El Proyecto 2748 de la Cámara permitirá que los estudiantes de educación especial sigan siendo elegibles a servicios hasta finales del año escolar regular 2021-2022 si un estudiante llega a la edad de 22 años durante el tiempo en que la instrucción, los servicios o las actividades en persona del estudiante fueron suspendidos por un período de 3 meses o más durante el año escolar, como resultado de la pandemia de COVID-19. HB40 y HB 2748 entran en vigor de inmediato.

- Purchase from the venue. Whenever possible, use the official ticket sales agent for the venue or visit the box office directly.
- Know the refund policy. You should only purchase tickets from a ticket reseller that provides clear details about the terms of the transaction. Sellers should disclose to the purchaser, prior to purchase, the exact location of the seats represented by the tickets. Know what happens when concerts cancel or change dates.
- Use payment methods that come with protection. Always use a credit card so you have some recourse if the tickets are not as promised. Debit cards, wire transfer or cash transactions are risky; if the tickets are fraudulent, you won't be able to get your money back.

CDPH Tracking Increase in Legionnaires' Disease Cases in July

The Chicago Department of Public Health reported an increase in cases of Legionnaires' disease in the city this month. In the first three weeks of July (1-21), 49 cases of Legionnaires' disease were reported in Chicago, which is about a 3-fold increase in cases compared to the same period in 2020 (16 cases) and 2019 (13). Among the 49 people with Legionnaires' disease to date in 2021, 15 (31%) were admitted to the ICU and two individuals died. CDPH issued an alert to local healthcare providers on July 9 reporting this increase in cases. A similar increase in illness has also been reported in Michigan. CDPH is investigating to find any common geographic or facility exposures. Legionnaires' disease follows a seasonal pattern in Chicago, with an increased number of cases reported from June to October each year. Prolonged building shutdowns or periods of limited use, as seen with COVID-19, can allow Legionella bacteria to grow and multiply in water systems. Legionella bacteria are found naturally in freshwater lakes and streams but can also be found in man-made water systems. People at high risk should see a doctor as soon as possible if they are experiencing unusual respiratory symptoms. Wear a mask when visiting a healthcare provider as these symptoms are also seen with COVID-19.

Según Rastreo de CDPH Aumentan los Casos de la Enfermedad del Legionario en Julio

El Departamento de Salud Pública de Chicago reportó un aumento en casos de la enfermedad del Legionario en la ciudad este mes. En las primeras tres semanas de julio (1-21), se reportaron 49 casos de la enfermedad del Legionario en Chicago, lo que es aproximadamente un aumento de tres veces en casos comparados al mismo período en el 2020 (16 casos) y el 2019 (13 casos). Entre las 49 personas con enfermedad del Legionario a la fecha, en el 2021, 15 (31%) fueron admitidas a la sala de emergencias y dos personas murieron. CDPH expidió el 9 de julio una alerta a los proveedores de salud de la localidad reportando este aumento en los casos. Un aumento similar en la enfermedad ha sido reportado también en Michigan. CDPH está investigando para encontrar exposiciones comunes, geográficas o en instalaciones. La enfermedad del Legionario sigue un patrón de temporada en Chicago, con un aumento de casos reportados de junio a octubre cada año. Cierres prolongados de edificios o por períodos de uso limitados, como se vió en la pandemia el COVID-19, pueden hacer que la bacteria 'Legionella' crezca y se multiplique en los sistemas de agua. La bacteria Legionella se encuentra en forma natural en lagos y arroyos de agua fresca, pero puede encontrarse también en sistemas construidos por el hombre. La gente de alto riesgo debe ver a un doctor lo más pronto posible si experimentan síntomas respiratorios poco usuales. Utilice una mascarilla cuando visite a un proveedor de cuidado de salud ya que estos síntomas se ven también en el COVID-19.

Property reassessments released for West Chicago Township

The Cook County Assessor's Office release initial assessments of residential and commercial properties in the township of West Chicago. This is the second of eight townships in the City of Chicago to be reassessed in 2021 and the second Chicago township to be reassessed under the leadership of Assessor Fritz Kaegi, who took office after Chicago's last reassessment in 2018. West Chicago Township follows the Chicago River at its east and southern borders. Its western border begins at Belmont and Western Avenues, runs west to Kedzie then down to North Avenue, then west to the city limits. Its southwest border tracks Roosevelt then proceeds south along the BNSF railroad tracks to the Chicago River. All property owners in West Chicago Township have been mailed an assessment notice. If the property characteristics listed on an assessment notice are incorrect, or if the estimated market value of a property is significantly more than what it could sell for in the current real estate market, property owners should file an appeal. Property owners are encouraged to use the Assessor's Office's new, award-winning online system to file their appeals. Appeals for West Township can be filed until August 23, 2021. More information on filing appeals can be found at cookcountyassessor.com/appeals. The system award recognizes the CTA's unprecedented modernization and efforts in 2020 to provide service during the Covid-19 pandemic, which impacted every transit agency in the nation. The Manager Award recognizes the leadership and career accomplishments of CTA President Dorval R. APTA represents more than 1,500 public- and private-sector organizations in North America, and more than 90 percent of people using transit in the U.S. and Canada ride APTA member systems. This is the first time in APTA history that one agency has received the top awards for outstanding system

Comcast se Une a Organizaciones Locales para Lanzar 'Lift Zones'

Comcast anunció un grupo de nuevas "Zonas de Elevación" [Lift Zones] conectadas a WiFi en los centros comunitarios que atienden a grandes poblaciones hispanas, en varios vecindarios de Chicago. Las Zonas de Elevación son espacios seguros donde estudiantes y familiares pueden tener aprendizaje distante en línea, hacer su tarea, aprender nuevas destrezas digitales y buscar empleo. Las nuevas Lift Zones están localizadas en:

- Casa Central en Humboldt Park;
- Centro Romero en East Rogers Park;
- Claretian Associates in South Chicago;

- Instituto del Progreso Latino en La Villita;

El grupo incluye también una Lift Zone en Back of the Yards Neighborhood Council (BYNC) que fue lanzado en el otoño del 2020. La crisis del COVID-19 puso en riesgo de atrasarse a muchos estudiantes y familias de bajos ingresos y aceleraron la necesidad de una equidad digital integral y programas adoptados al Internet para apoyarlos. Las 'Lift Zones' designadas para ofrecer conectividad adicional en barrios de Chicago son otro recursos para el aprendizaje comunitario. Como parte del programa de Lift Zones, Comcast planea también ofrecer acceso a cientos de horas de contenido de destrezas educativas y digitales para ayudar a las familias y al personal a navegar a través del aprendizaje en línea.

El Departamento de Trabajo de Illinois Subraya Pasos para Prevenir la Violencia en el Trabajo

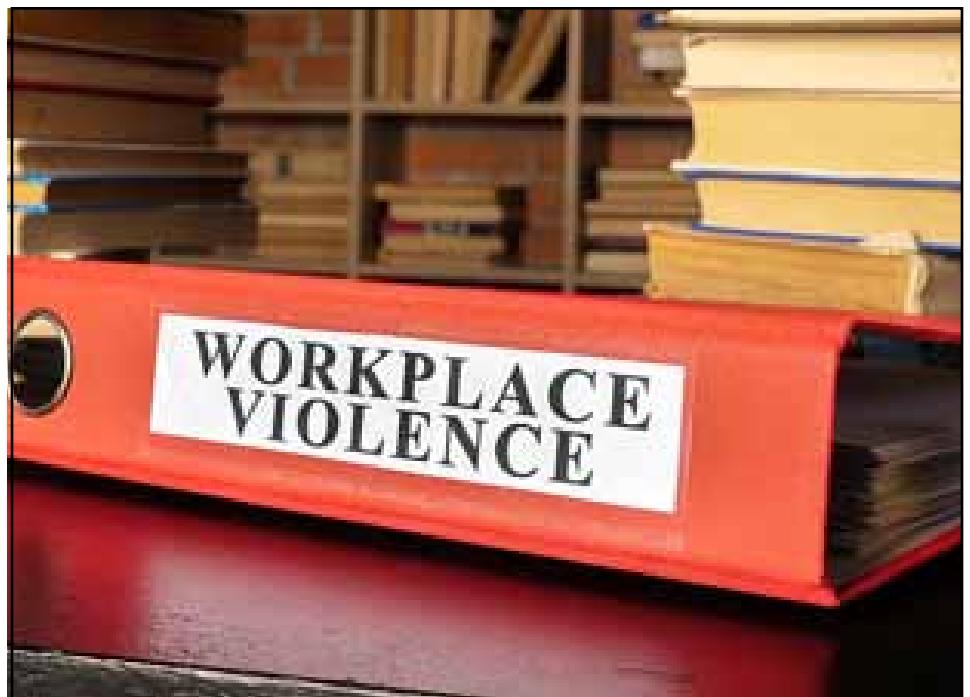

Cada año, millones de estadounidenses son víctimas de violencia en el trabajo. El primer paso para prevenir la violencia en el trabajo es reconocer las señales de estrés. El próximo paso es garantizar que los empleadores tienen un plan para responder en caso de violencia en el trabajo. La Administración de Salud y Seguridad Ocupacional de E.U. (OSHA) define la violencia en el trabajo como "cualquier acto de amenaza de violencia física, acoso, intimidación u otro comportamiento amenazador que ocurra en el lugar de trabajo". El cuidado de salud está entre los campos más comunes de violencia en el trabajo, junto con el de proveedores de servicios, como conductores de entregas y transporte. Los trabajadores minoristas también se encuentran entre los más atacados. OSHA clasifica la violencia en el trabajo en cuatro categorías, intento criminal, cliente-cliente, trabajador-trabajador, y relaciones personales. Otras precauciones que deben tenerse en consideración incluyen:

- Brindar educación de seguridad a los empleados para que ellos sepan que conducta no es aceptable, que deben hacer si son testigos o experimentan tal conducta y como protegerse a sí mismos.

Illinois Department of Labor Highlights Steps to Prevent Violence on the Job

Each year, millions of Americans are victimized by workplace violence. The first step in preventing workplace violence is recognizing signs of stress. The next step is to ensure employers have a plan in place to respond in the case of violence in the workplace. The U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) defines workplace violence as "any act or threat of physical violence, harassment, intimidation, or other threatening disruptive behavior that occurs at the workplace." Healthcare is among the most common fields for workplace violence, along with service providers, like delivery and ride-hailing drivers, and school employees. Retail workers are also among the most targeted. OSHA classifies workplace violence into four categories: criminal intent, customer-client, worker-on-worker, and personal relationship. Other precautions should also be taken, including:

- Provide safety education for employees so they know what conduct is not acceptable, what to do if they witness or experience such conduct and how to protect themselves.

- Secure the workplace. Surveillance cameras, proper lighting, key or badge entry and guards can all help alleviate possible violence at work.
- Encourage employees to alert supervisors to any concerns they have about coworkers' erratic or potentially dangerous behavior, as well as any other safety issue they believe could lead to violence at work.
- Provide for a buddy system or escort service for employees who need it in potentially dangerous situations or at night. For more information, visit www.osha.gov.

Comcast Joins Local Organizations to Launch 'Lift Zones'

Comcast announced a cluster of new WiFi-connected "Lift Zones" at community centers that serve largely Hispanic populations in several Chicago neighborhoods. Lift Zones are safe spaces where students and families can get online for distance learning, to do homework, to learn new digital skills and to search for employment. The new Lift Zones are located at:

- Casa Central in Humboldt Park;
- Centro Romero in East Rogers Park;
- Claretian Associates in South Chicago;

- Instituto del Progreso Latino in Little Village;
- National Latino Education Institute in McKinley Park;
- Poder Works in Chicago Lawn; and
- The Resurrection Project in Pilsen.

The cluster also includes a Lift Zone at Back of the Yards Neighborhood Council (BYNC) that launched in fall 2020. The COVID-19 crisis put many low-income students and families at risk of being left behind and accelerated the need for comprehensive digital equity and Internet adoption programs to support them. Lift Zones, which are designed to provide additional connectivity in Chicago's neighborhoods, are another resource for community-based learning. As part of the Lift Zones program, Comcast also plans to provide access to hundreds of hours of educational and digital skills content to help families and staff onsite navigate online learning.
