IDFPR Calls for Federal Student Loan Servicers to Prioritize the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program

The Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR) announced the Department has issued a letter to all federal student loan servicers encouraging them to immediately implement best practices to help alert and educate eligible student loan holders about the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program. As the primary contact for many student loan borrowers, servicers are in the best position to increase awareness about PSLF and help borrowers take advantage of the program. PSLF forgives the remaining student loan balance of full-time government and certain non-profit employees after making 120 qualifying payments. In order for more borrowers to qualify for forgiveness, President Biden announced temporary changes to the program, including waiving some past requirements. However, many borrowers are unaware of these changes and may miss out on loan forgiveness as a result. The temporary changes expire on October 31, 2022.

Meals on Wheels Chicago Celebrates 35 Years of Service

On August 10th, Meals on Wheels Chicago celebrated an important milestone. For 35 years, the home meal delivery program has helped food-insecure seniors and individuals with disabilities stay healthy, nourished, and independent in their own homes. What started as a program serving 1,218 seniors a hot Thanksgiving meal in 1987 is now a program that serves over 13,000 people annually, making weekly deliveries that add up to 4.7 million meals each year to those struggling with food insecurity. In the 35 years since the program began in Chicago, the need has grown dramatically. With 1 in 5 Americans 60 or older, 12,000 more turning 60 each day, and 7.4 million seniors living on incomes below the poverty line, more people are at risk of hunger and isolation than ever before. This month also marks the official launch of Nourish Chicago,

A Meals on Wheels Pantry, in a continued effort to put health on the pantry shelf for seniors. Nourish Chicago Pantry advances Meals on Wheels Chicago's mission to improve quality of life and maximize independence for seniors in our community. The cost of food and limited transportation to full-stock grocery stores can limit a senior's access to fresh produce and pantry goods, and seniors living on a fixed income are often forced to choose between food, medicine, and the cost of housing. For more information, visit www.mealsonwheelschicago.org.

Meals on Wheels Chicago Celebra 35 Años de Servicio

El 10 de agosto, Meals on Wheels Chicago celebró un importante logro. Por 35 años, el programa de entrega de comidas en casa ha ayudado a las personas mayores sin seguridad en la comida y a personas incapacitadas, a mantenerse saludables, nutridas e independientes en sus propias casas. Lo que empezó como un programa sirviendo a 1,218 ciudadanos mayores una comida del Día de Gracias en 1987, es ahora un programa que sirve a más de 13,000 personas al año, haciendo entregas semanales que se suman a 4.7 millones de comidas cada año para quienes luchan con la inseguridad en la comida. En los 35 años desde que el programa empezó en Chicago, la necesidad ha crecido dramáticamente. Con 1 de cada 6 estadounidenses de 60 años o más, 12,000 más cumplen 60 cada año y 7.4 millones de ciudadanos mayores viven de ingresos por debajo de la línea de pobreza, más gente está en riesgo de tener hambre y estar aislados que nunca antes. En un continuo esfuerzo por poner salud en los casilleros de despensa para los ancianos. Nourish

Chicago Pantry avanza la misión de Wheels Chicago para mejorar la calidad de vida y maximizar la independencia de los ciudadanos mayores de nuestra comunidad. El costo de la comida y la transportación limitada a las tiendas de abarrotes, pueden limitar el acceso de una persona mayor a vegetales y productos de despensa y estas personas que viven de un ingreso fijo se ven muchas veces forzadas a escoger entre comida, medicina y el costo de la vivienda. Forecast Form: Art in the Caribbean Diaspora,

1990s–Today

November 19, 2022–April 23, 2023

Forecast Form is an innovative rethinking of “Caribbean art,” focusing on art in the Caribbean diaspora and featuring an intergenerational group of thirty-seven artists who live and work across the Americas and Europe. Using the weather’s constant movement as a metaphor for analyzing artistic practices, this major exhibition challenges conventional ideas about the region and reveals the Caribbean as a place defined not by geography, language, or ethnicity, but by constant exchange, displacement, and movement.

For the complete schedule, visit www.mcachicago.org.

El Museo de Arte Contemporáneo de Chicago Anuncia las Exhibiciones de Otoño

El Museo de Arte Contemporáneo (MCA) de Chicago anuncia las siguientes exhibiciones para el otoño del 2022 y la primavera del 2023, unas cuantas de ellas incluyen:

Enter the Mirror [Entra al Espejo]

Septiembre 10, 2022–Julio 23, 2023

Bergman Family Gallery

Entra al Espejo presenta obras que intentan revelar verdades – escondidas, suprimidas o simplemente ignoradas – que cuesta trabajo o es desagradable ver. Obras selectas de la Colección MCA acompañadas de obras clave prestadas, invita a los visitantes a reflexionar sobre su complicidad en ciertos sistemas y eventos, y las contradicciones, realidades y horrores más oscuros del diario vivir.

Forecast Form: Arte en la Diáspora Caribeña, 1990s

– Hoy

Noviembre 19, 2022–Abril 23, 2023

Forecast Form es un replanteamiento innovador del “arte caribeño”, que se centra en el arte de la diáspora caribeña y presenta un grupo intergeneracional de treinta y siete artistas que viven y trabajan en las Américas y Europa. Utilizando el constante movimiento del tiempo como metáfora para analizar prácticas artísticas, esta importante exhibición reta las ideas convencionales sobre la región y revela el Caribe, como un lugar definido no por la geografía, el lenguaje, o la etnicidad, sino por el intercambio constante, el desplazamiento y el movimiento.

Want to Stop the Endless Rollercoaster Ride? A Life Coach Can Help

Many people feel that they are going through a rollercoaster of life. There are big ups, downs, and days in between. They feel lost, hopeless, stuck, and unsure about how to get their spark back, so they can move in a direction that helps calm the ride and creates a sense of inner peace. Many people have turned to life coaches like Katie Sandler to give them the insight and guidance they desperately need, including helping people to focus on such things as:

•Learning to ride it. Fighting the rollercoaster may be what is holding people back. Learning how to ride and not react to it as much can help increase happiness and improve life satisfaction.

•Increasing self-awareness and self- understanding. Few of us truly possess a sense of self-awareness and understanding. We spend a lot of time being aware of others and trying to understand them, yet we don't do that for ourselves.

•Focusing on mindfulness. Mindfulness helps people reduce anxiety, depression, and fear. Practicing mindfulness is a powerful way to help people learn to ride the waves. It's a process that anyone can do that will rewire the brain and help people focus on enjoying the now.

•Establishing boundaries. When we learn to set boundaries, we are practicing self-respect. Limits will help people learn to honor themselves and ask life to do so, too.

•Improve time management. People must be organized to honor the above. There are effective ways to improve time management that people can incorporate into their daily lives.

•Embracing acceptance. It's essential to learn that life is full of ups and downs. Humans are supposed to ebb and flow. Without darkness, there is no light. There's no eliminating this, so learn to dance!

¿Quieres Detener la Interminable Montaña Rusa? Un Entrenador de Vida te Puede Ayudar

Mucha gente siente que se encuentra en la montaña rusa de la vida. Hay altibajos y días mejores. Se sienten perdidos, desesperanzados, atascados e inseguros de cómo recuperar su seguridad, para poder moverse en una dirección que les ayude a calmar la angustia y cree un sentido de paz interior. Mucha gente ha recurrido a entrenadores de vida como Katie Sandler, para brindarles la perspectiva y la orientación que necesitan desesperadamente, lo que incluye ayudar a las personas a concentrarse en cosas como:

•Aprender a andar en ella. Luchar contra la montaña rusa puede ser lo que está deteniendo a la gente. Aprender como andar en ella y no reaccionar a ella tanto puede ayudar a aumentar la felicidad y mejorar la satisfacción en la vida.

•Aumentar la autoconciencia y la auto-comprensión. Pocos de nosotros poseemos verdaderamente un sentido de autoconciencia y comprensión. Pasamos mucho tiempo considerando a los demás y tratando de entenderlos, pero no lo hacemos con nosotros mismos.

Cada residente vivirá en el centro, al que se le pondrá un nombre oficial un poco más tarde, por uno a tres años. Los fondos para el centro de desarrollo de fuerza laboral residencial vienen de un subsidio del Estado de Illinois de $7.5 millones; un subsidio federal de $750,000; un subsidio de la Autoridad de Desarrollo de Viviendas de Illinois de $475,000 y donaciones privadas. En el 2018, LCLC gastó $30,000 para la compra de la propiedad de K-Town, que tiene 24,590 pies cuadrados y fue anteriormente una escuela católica. La construcción incluye tanto una rehabilitación total de la estructura existente como una nueva construcción que agregará un ala completa de espacio para oficinas y programas. El edificio de mampostería original tiene más de 100 años y necesita un importante trabajo de rehabilitación, como plomería, electricidad y HVAC. Se agregará un ascensor al edificio. Se espera que el centro abra en la primavera de 2024.

Lawndale Christian Legal Center Announces Dormitory-Style Residence

Lawndale Christian Legal Center announced on August 6th the construction of a $17 million center where clients will love and receive job skills to transition to homeownership. The K-Town residential workforce development center, 1441 S. Keeler Ave., will house 20 young men from North Lawndale who either have pending or completed cases in the Circuit Court of Cook County. The 20 housing units will feature a private bedroom bathroom, and kitchenette. There will be shared space for socializing and meetings, a commercial kitchen, dining area, a computer room and laundry room. Each resident will live at the center, which will be officially named at a later date, for one to three years. Funding for the residential workforce development center comes from a $7.5 million State of Illinois grant; a $750,000 federal grant; a $475,000 Illinois Housing Development Authority grant; and private donations. In 2018, LCLC spent $30,000 to purchase the K-Town property, which has 24,590 square feet and was formerly a Catholic

Parents Must Speak out Against Harmful National Sex Education Standards the Pritzker Administration is Imposing on Local Schools

By: State Representative Adam Niemerg, Illinois Freedom Caucus member

With only the bare minimum number of votes to pass a bill in the Illinois House, the Legislature approved the controversial National Sex Education Standards as the basis for all sex education classes in Illinois.

The legislation has now become law and the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) has filed new rules with the Secretary of State on the adoption of the National Sex Education Standards. As part of the checklist of things to do before instructions begins, school officials are advised to "Review and become familiar with the National Sex Education Standards." This begs the question – what are the National Sex Education Standards all about?

According to the National Sex Education Standards one of the learning goals for kids beginning in kindergarten is to "Define Consent," and "Define gender, gender identity, and gender-role stereotypes." Kids in the third grade are expected to be able to, "Explain common human sexual development and the role of hormones (e.g., romantic, and sexual feelings, masturbation, mood swings, and timing of pubertal onset)."

Another goal for third through fifth graders is to be able to, "Describe the role hormones play in the physical, social, cognitive, and emotional changes during adolescence and the potential role of hormone blockers on young people who identify as transgender."

The standards also expect sixth through eighth graders to be able to, "Define vaginal, oral, and anal sex."

In other words, the National Sex Education Standards go far beyond biology and seek to teach kids at young ages material that is clearly not age appropriate.

The good news is Illinois schools are not required to teach sex education and can opt out of teaching these obscene sex education standards. Local school boards have the authority to establish their own curriculum guidelines and do not have to comply with these standards because there is no law requiring schools to teach sex education in the first place. I have been sounding the alarm and urging parents to get involved and stop this curriculum from taking hold in their local schools and numerous districts across the state are opting out.

These parents are asking questions about how schools can justify teaching radical sex education curriculum when so many of our students are not meeting basic standards of learning.

According to the most recent Illinois Assessment of Readiness text scores, fewer than one in five Chicago third graders met or exceeded Illinois' education standards in reading and math. And it is not just Chicago with low test scores. School districts across the state are having similar problems.

The focus in our schools should be on giving children the building blocks they need to learn. Our kids should learn how to read, write, add, subtract, and have a basic understanding of science and history. It is not the job of schools to teach graphic sexual content especially when our kids are not meeting our state's basic standards of learning. My colleagues and I tried to stop the National Sex Education Standards from becoming a part of our school curriculum, but we fell just short of defeating this legislation. Now, the battle is in the hands of Illinois families and local school boards. It is a battle we can and will win as long as parents stay engaged.
