Labor Day Getaways

By: Ashmar Mandou

Labor Day weekend in the Midwest is the best time to enjoy all the nearby city activities. If you are looking to squeeze in one last summer road trip with your family, you're in luck because we have a list of beautiful places filled with interactive museums, hiking trails along plush grounds, and sandy beaches.

Indiana Dunes State Park, Indiana

If you think Indiana is all cornfields and cows, then you probably haven't been to the Indiana Dunes. There's a small part of the state that borders Lake Michigan and features sandy beaches, impressive sand dunes, and ocean waves for your last beach weekend of the season. The dunes are also a prime spot for birdwatching, and the beach stretches for about 15 miles long.

Madison, Wisconsin

Another great Wisconsin town to visit over Labor Day is Madison, especially if you love arts and culture, great food, and tasty beer. This destination is a foodie's and a craft beer lover's paradise, and you'll have no shortage of entertainment with all of the local attractions here. Some top things to do in town are the Chazen Museum of Art, the Madison Museum of Contemporary Art, the Olbrich Botanical Gardens, and taking a cruise on Lake Mendota. Taste of Madison, a local food festival, takes place over Labor Day as well.

Starved Rock State Park, Illinois

Another surprising natural wonder that you can visit on an easy day trip from Chicago this Labor Day is Starved Rock State Park. It's only about 100 miles southwest of the city but feels like a world away. There are over a dozen waterfalls and canyons here, as well as lots of hiking trails and guided interpretative programs. There is a lodge and cabins here if you want to stay overnight and make a full weekend trip out of a journey to Starved Rock.

Ann Arbor, Michigan

This Michigan college town is also a place to get active in the outdoors with hiking and biking before the weather turns chilly. Locals and visitors always look forward to the Dancing in the Streets Festival at this time of year. This is a free festival on the Sunday of Labor Day weekend on Main and Washington Streets in Downtown Ann Arbor that has multiple stages and allows visitors the opportunity to try various styles of dance.

vacas, probablemente no ha estado en Indiana Dunes. Hay una pequeña parte del estado que bordea el Lago Michigan y cuenta con playas de arena, impresionantes dunas de arena y olas del océano para su último fin de semana de playa de la temporada. Las dunas también son un lugar privilegiado para la observación de aves, y la playa se extiende por unas 15 millas de largo.

Madison, Wisconsin

Otro gran poblado en Wisconsin para visitar el Labor Day es Madison, especialmente se le gustan las artes y la cultura, una buena comida y una sabrosa cerveza. Este destino es un paraíso para los amantes de la comida y la cerveza artesanal, y aquí no le faltará entretenimiento con todas las atracciones locales. Algunas de las mejores cosas por visitar en la ciudad son el Museo de Arte Chazen, el Museo de Arte Contemporáneo de Madison, los jardines botánicos de Olbrich y tomar un crucero por el lago Mendota. Taste of Madison, un festival gastronómico local, también se lleva a cabo durante el Día del Trabajo. Starved Rock State Park, Illinois

Otra sorpresiva maravilla natural que puede visitar en un fácil viaje de un día desde Chicago este Labor Day, es Starved Rock State Park. Está solo a 100 millas al sudoeste de la ciudad pero parece estar al fin del mundo. Hay aquí más de una docena de cascadas y cañones, así como muchas rutas de senderismo y programas interpretativos guiados. Hay un albergue y cabañas por si desea pasar la noche y hacer un viaje de fin de semana completo de un simple viaje a Starved Rock.

Ann Arbor, Michigan

Esta ciudad universitaria de Michigan también es un lugar para mantenerse activo al aire libre con caminatas y ciclismo antes de que el clima se torne frío. Los lugareños y visitantes siempre esperan con ansia el Festival Dancing in the Streets en esta época del año. Este es un festival gratuito el domingo del fin de semana del Día del Trabajo en las calles Main y Washington en el centro de Ann Arbor que tiene múltiples escenarios y permite a los visitantes la oportunidad de probar varios estilos de baile.

ComEd Encourages Income-Eligible Customers to Apply for LIHEAP Utility-Bill Support

ComEd encourages income-eligible customers to be ready to apply for utility-bill assistance when the new program year begins Sept. 1. For fiscal year 2022, $8.3 billion in LIHEAP funding was provided by the federal government – the most ever to help Americans meet their energy needs. In Illinois, LIHEAP provides a one-time grant, per program year, with no payback required, based on a household's income and size. A customer's annual household income cannot exceed 200 percent of the federal poverty income guidelines which, for a family of four, is $4,625 a month. Homeowners, renters and subsidized housing tenants are eligible to apply for assistance. Customers do not have to be behind on their bills to receive a grant. Residents of Cook County can call the LIHEAP hotline at 800-571-2332. Residents outside Cook County can call 877-411-9276. ComEd works closely with its Community Action Agencies to connect customers to grants and programs like LIHEAP and ComEd's Supplemental Arrearage Reduction Program (SARP), which is available to ComEd residential customers who qualified to receive energy-assistance benefits from LIHEAP. In 2021 alone, ComEd helped connect more than 225,000 eligible customers to more than $146 million in energy assistance. Any customer experiencing difficulty paying their electric bill can learn more about energy-assistance options, including how to apply, at ComEd.com/PaymentAssistance.

ComEd Anima a Clientes con Ingresos Elegibles a Solicitar Apoyo para el Pago de Servicios Públicos de LIHEAP

ComEd anima a clientes de ingresos elegibles a estar listos para solicitar ayuda para los pagos de servicios públicos cuando comience el nuevo programa, el 1º de septiembre. Para el año fiscal 2022, $8.3 mil millones en fondos LIHEAP fueron provistos por el gobierno federal – el estímulo mayor recibido para ayudar a los estadounidenses a atender sus necesidades de energía. En Illinois, LIHEAP provee un subsidio, una sola vez por programa del año, sin necesidad de reembolso, en base al ingreso y el tamaño de la familia. Un ingreso familiar anual del cliente no puede exceder 200 por ciento de la guía de ingreso de pobreza federal, que, para una familia de cuatro, es de $4,625 al

mes. Los propietarios, inquilinos e inquilinos de vivienda subsidiada son elegibles para solicitar ayuda. Los clientes no tienen que estar atrasados en sus cuentas para recibir un subsidio. Los residentes del Condado de Cook pueden llamar a la línea directa de LIHEAP al 800-571-2332. Los residentes fuera del Condado de Cook pueden llamar al 877-411-9276. ComEd trabaja en estrecha colaboración con Community Action Agencies para conectar a los clientes con subsidios y programas como LIHEAP y el Programa Suplementario de Reducción de Pagos Atrasados (SARP), disponible a clientes residenciales de ComEd que califiquen para recibir beneficios de ayuda en energía, de LIHEAP. Solo en el 2021, ComEd ayudó a conectar a más de 225,000 clientes elegibles a más de $146 millones en ayuda de energía. Cualquier cliente que experimente problemas para pagar su cuenta de electricidad puede tener más información sobre opciones de ayuda en energía, incluyendo como solicitarla, en ComEd.com/PaymentAssistance.

Activists Demand Gov. Pritzker Address Water Crisis in Illinois Prisons

On Thursday, August 18th, the Coalition to Decarcerate IL (CDI) was joined by the Campaign to Free Incarcerated Survivors of Torture (CFIST), Uptown People’s Law Center, Natural Resources Defense Council, Healthy Hood Chicago, and MAMAS Activating Movements for Abolition and Solidarity outside 555 W Monroe St. to demand Governor Pritzker improve the water infrastructure and quality across state prisons. It was discovered that legionella bacteria, which causes legionnaires disease, has been detected in 12 prisons throughout the state, in addition to elevated levels of lead, and copper. This bacteria can be deadly and is not safe to drink or inhale, which means it is unsafe to shower. Many of our currently incarcerated loved ones have reported rashes and burning skin, as well as yellow and brown water discoloration. Reports of unsafe water go back decades. The Coalition to Decarcerate IL, previously known as the End IL Prison Lockdown Coalition, is a group of loved ones of the incarcerated, currently and formerly incarcerated individuals, activists, and creatives working towards abolition and fighting for the rights and dignity of currently incarcerated individuals and their loved ones.

Rep. Hernandez Encourages Personal Health, Hygiene Practices to Prevent MPV

State Rep. Elizabeth “Lisa” Hernandez, D-Cicero, is urging Illinoisans to practice personal health and hygiene precautions to prevent the spread of the monkeypox virus (MPV). “The Illinois Department of Public Health provides easy ways to prevent MPV infection and keep ourselves and our loved ones healthy,” said Hernandez. “IDPH and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention say that washing your hands, using alcohol-based hand sanitizers and avoiding skin-to-skin contact are effective methods to reduce the spread of MPV and other illnesses. I encourage everyone to work these common sense precautions into their daily routine.” MPV is a viral infection characterized by rash that begins on the face and can spread to other parts of the body, according to IDPH. Other symptoms include fever, headache, muscle pain, backaches, swollen lymph nodes, chills and exhaustion. A person is infectious at the moment any of these symptoms begin to appear. Those experiencing symptoms should contact their health care provider, isolate, wear a mask and cover lesions to protect others. To learn more about MPV, please contact your healthcare provider or visit <https://dph.illinois.gov/topics-services/diseases-and-conditions/monkeypox.html>.

La Rep. Hernández Aconseja Salud Personal e Higiene Para Prevenir el MPV

La Rep. Estatal Elizabeth “Lisa” Hernández, D-Cicero, exhorta a los residentes de Illinois a practicar precauciones de salud e higiene personal para prevenir el contagio del virus del mono (MPV). “El Departamento de Salud Pública de Illinois ofrece prácticas fáciles para prevenir la infección del MPV y para mantenernos nosotros y nuestros seres queridos saludables”, dijo la Rep. Hernández. “IDPH y los Centros para el Control y la Prevención de Enfermedades dicen que lavarse las manos, usar desinfectantes a base de alcohol y evitar el contacto con la piel son métodos efectivos para reducir el contagio del MPV y otras enfermedades. Aconsejo a todos que practiquen estas sencillas precauciones en su diario vivir”. EL MPV es una infección viral caracterizada por una erupción que comienza en la cara y puede extenderse a otras partes del cuerpo, de acuerdo a IDPH. Otros síntomas incluyen fiebre, dolor de cabeza, dolor de músculos, dolor de espalda, ganglios linfáticos inflamados, escalofríos y agotamiento. Una persona contagia en el momento en que cualquiera de estos síntomas comienzan a aparecer. Los que experimenten algún síntoma deben comunicarse con su proveedor de salud, aislarse, usar una mascarilla y cubrir las lesiones para proteger a los demás. Par más informaciones sobre el MPV, comunicarse con su proveedor de cuidado de salud o visitar <https://dph.illinois.gov/topics-services/diseases-and-conditions/monkeypox.html>.
