Assessor Kaegi Celebrates Passage of HB 1377

Cook County Assessor Fritz Kaegi commends the Illinois state legislature for passing House Bill 1377, which encourages development by creating a homestead exemption for new residential construction. Under this legislation, homes built by municipalities on tax-exempt parcels will have their taxable value gradually phased in over 10 years. Homeowners who buy these properties will benefit from a reduction in their property taxes, while municipalities and other taxing districts will see an increase in the tax base that can lower tax rates for all residents. "Getting new construction onto the tax rolls grows the base and shrinks the tax rate, helping everybody," said Assessor Kaegi. "We want to help build strong communities that foster a sense of place and create support for local businesses and civic activities. I look forward to Governor Pritzker signing this bill into law." Properties built under this law and eligible for the exemption will receive a reduction in equalized assessed value (EAV) equal to 50 percent of their EAV for the first 8 years of eligibility, and 33 percent of their EAV in the final two years of eligibility. The exemption will automatically renew, and applies to properties that have undergone environmental remediation. This legislation aimed at incentivizing municipal-led residential development complements the Southland Reactivation Act, which was enacted in 2022 and reduces property assessments for new commercial or industrial developments on tax-exempt land.
