'Todo Joven Merece Prosperar'

—Adam M. Alonso, Presidente y CEO del YMCA del Área Metropolitana de Chicago

Por Ashmar Mandou

Para ayudar a brindar espacios seguros y mantener activos a los jóvenes este verano, el YMCA del Área Metropolitana de Chicago anunció el lanzamiento del Programa Get Summer, un afiliación entre el YMCA del Área Metropolitana de Chicago y la Ciudad de Chicago. El programa Get Summer dará a los adolescentes de Chicago, de 2 a 18 años, membresías gratis en siete locales del YMCA de la ciudad.

“El Y siempre ha creído que todo joven merece un lugar para crecer, prosperar y descubrir su potencial, sin importar su zona postal o el ingreso familiar”, dijo Adam M. Alonso, Presidente y CEO del YMCA del

Área Metropolitana de Chicago. “Este año, Get Summer retirará las barreras y abrirá nuestras puertas a los adolescentes de Chicago. Esperamos que puedan venir, usar nuestras piscinas, nuestros gimnasios y nuestros campos y salgan sintiéndose más fuertes, más saludables e inclusive más conectados con sus comunidades”.

Durante agosto, los adolescentes tendrán libre acceso a los centros de acondicionamiento físico del YMCA, gimnasios, campos de baloncesto, piscinas y espacios recreativos, entre otras oportunidades. La afiliación está diseñada para mantener a los adolescentes activos, que establezcan comunidad, y estén alejados de los

Cook County Treasurer Maria Pappas' Historic Property Tax Sale Reform Legislation Passes in Illinois /General Assembly

Sweeping property tax foreclosure reforms pushed by Cook County Treasurer Maria Pappas passed Saturday in the Illinois General Assembly and now head to the governor's desk. Once signed by Governor JB Pritzker, the reform package will be the most significant Illinois homeowner protection measure enacted in decades. House Bill 4537 will bring Illinois into compliance with the 2023 U.S. Supreme Court ruling in Tyler v. Hennepin. The court found that when governments foreclose on a property for unpaid taxes, any equity above the debt owed must be returned to the property owner. Each year, under current Illinois law, overdue taxes on homes, commercial properties, and vacant lots are sold to tax buyers. In return, the buyers receive a lien entitling them to take deed to the property – and housing advocates, and in collaboration with state Sen. Celina Villanueva (D-Chicago) and state Rep. Curtis Tarver (D-Chicago). The core reform in HB 4537 is the creation of a tax deed auction system already used successfully in many other states. Taxes, interest, and fees owed will be paid by the highest any equity the owner has in it – if the owner doesn't pay what's owed within one to three years. With this legislation, the old system will be replaced by one that returns to the former property owner any equity above what was owed. It was crafted with input from Cook County President Toni Preckwinkle, downstate county treasurers and bidder. Remaining surplus equity will be returned to the former property owner by the county treasurer. The legislation requires Cook County to hold six more tax sales involving private tax buyers. After the sixth sale, expected to occur in 2030, tax buying will no longer be allowed in Cook County. Instead, the county will hold all the liens for overdue property taxes, and if the property owner doesn't pay what's owed within one to three years, the county can auction off the property's deed to the highest bidder.
